Huge Allied Bomb Raids Continue To Rain Destruction

Vast Areas Of Ruhr Valley City Bombed

Western Half Of Wuppertal Laid Waste By Mass Bombing Attack

HEAVIEST BOMBERS ATTACK IN WAVES

By LEO V. DOLAN
(I. N. S Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 25.—Vast areas of Elberfeld, eastern half of the industrial Ruhr valley city of Wuppertal, were laid waste early today in a heavy block-buster assault by Royal Air Force bombers.

The air ministry in a communique on the attack said that the bomber command hit Elberfeld in great strength and delivered a concentrated assault nearly as severe as that recently made on Barmen, western sector of the city which was plastered on May 29 with 1,500 tons of bombs.

Report 35 Planes Missing

The communique said that 33 craft were missing as a result of the attack. The announced losses indicated that a force of between 600 and 700 of Britain's heaviest bombers, attacking in waves, had carried out the assault.

"Preliminary reports indicate great damage," the Air Ministry said in announcing the latest target in the sustained Allied air offensive to smash to ashes the industrial areas of Germany and Italy.

The Air Ministry said that other targets in the Ruhr also were attacked and that mines were laid in enemy waters.

The twin towns of Elberfeld and Barmen which comprise Wuppertal, lie 40 miles east of devastated Dusseldorf.

Returning airmen said that the Nazi flak en route to Elberfeld was heavy but only moderate over the target. There was no moon and the relatively low losses of the R. A. F. were attributed in part to this.

Wuppertal Smothered

It was assumed that all of Wuppertal now has been smothered with bombs since the previous attack was

Coal Producers And Ickes Confer

Discuss Mine Operation—WLB To Carry Issue To White House

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Coal Czar Harold L. Ickes met today with a group of the nation's leading coal producers to plan active federal control of the mines as the War Labor Board prepared to carry its protest against the current strike "truce" directly to the White House.

Approximately 30 coal mining executives, including B. F. Fairless, president of United States Steel and operator of so-called "captive" mines, assembled at Ickes' office to discuss the government's plans to operate the mines.

At the same time, members of the War Labor Board scheduled a conference with War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes to demand the WLB's recent coar order be enforced to the limit through the full power of the government.

It was learned that Wayne L. Morse, George W. Taylor, and Dr. Frank Graham, public members of the board, and two labor representatives planned to lodge the protest with Byrnes.

Board members previously have

U. S. BOMBERS HIT AIRDROME AT SALONIKA

(International News Service)

CAIRO, June 25—American Liberator bombers of the United States ninth air force, striking into occupied Greece, heavily bombed the Axis-held Sedes airdrome at Salonika, middle east headquarters announced today.

The attack in which the four-motored heavy American planes penetrated into the upper reaches of the Aegean sea was carried out yesterday.

Direct hits were scored on three airplane hangars and at least three ground enemy planes were destroyed.

The hangars were set ablaze and near-by oil stores also were sent up in flames.

Bombs were also crashed down on administrative buildings.

All of the American bombers returned safely to base.

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, June 25—The Soviet high command today announced the slaying of 270 Nazi troops on the Leningrad front by Soviet snipers and the destruction of 29 German blockhouses and three ammunition and supply dumps by Red Army artillery.

The noon communique reported that the Germans had launched a minor attack on the Lisichansk sector of the Donets River front which was completely broken up by Russian defense forces.

Five of nine German bombers which attempted to attack a Soviet airfield in this area were reported shot down.

The high command said that its

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Members of the War Labor Board today scheduled a conference with War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes at the White House to ask him to enforce their order to John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers Union.

The board last week directed the UMW to sign a wage agreement with soft coal operators and included in it a no-strike pledge. The union refused because the proposed amendment failed to grant them a general wage increase under the guise fo portal-to-portal pay.

Americans In Daylight Raids

(International News Service)

Observers who saw the squadrons pass overhead to the eastward reported that they returned several hours later.

Sardinia And Sicily Heavily Blasted Again

Devastating New Assaults Are Made By British And American Bombers

CATANIA IS HARD HIT BY ATTACKERS

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, In North Africa, June 25.—Devastating new assaults by American and British bombers of the North African air force on the Italian Mediterranean islands of Sicily and Sardinia were announced in a communique today.

The heaviest assault on Sicily was made by British Wellington bombers against the east coast port of Catania while Martin Marauder bombers and B-25 Mitchells, escorted by Lightnings, struck at Sardinia.

Railway Yards Hit

The industrial area and the railway marshalling yards of Catania were hard hit by the Wellingtons which carry heavy loads of block-buster bombs.

The Catania assault was carried out in darkness on Wednesday night.

"Yesterday forces of medium and fighter-bombers attacked targets in Sardinia," the communique from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters said.

The B-26 Marauders, escorted by Lightning Fighters, attacked Chilivani and then went on to assault shipping at Golfo Aranci, hitting three Axis vessels.

The enemy landing ground at Capoterra in southern Sardinia was blasted by Curtiss P-40 Warhawks. Two small Axis ships were smashed off the coast during this raid.

In the conduct of these operations the Allied airmen knocked 29 Axis interceptor planes out of the sky. One enemy bomber also was destroyed Wednesday night.

Nine Allied planes were lost on these missions.

Corp. M. Mangino Reported Killed In Auto Accident

Message Received By Family From California Camp Captain

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mangino of 110 South Cedar street received a telegram Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, stating that their son, Corporal Michael Mangino, was accidentally killed as a result of an auto accident on Wednesday, June 23. No other details were given.

The telegram was sent by Captain John R. Chaplain of Camp Ibis, Calif., from where the family is awaiting further news.

Corporal Mangino would have reach his twenty-fifth birthday next month, on July 31. He entered the U. S. service in May, 1941, and received his basic training at Fort Meade, Md.

Cpl. Mangino was with a tank destroyer corps.

He was born July 31, 1917, in New Castle, son of Joseph and Mary Masters Mangino. He was a member of St. Lucy's church and the Christopher Columbus Society.

Survivors are his parents and the following brothers and sisters, Ralph of New Castle, Mrs. Vivelo Nicholas of Youngstown, Frank of New Castle, Josephine, Lawrence, Andrew, Joseph, Jr., William, Anthony and Viola, all at home.

The body is expected to arrive in this city in a few days when it will be taken to the DeCarbo funeral home, East Lutton street.

Seek Showdown Air Power Battle With Axis Forces

Allies Making Gigantic Attempt To Lure Axis Planes Into Skies

WIDESPREAD AIR ATTACKS ARE MADE

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

A gigantic attempt to lure the German and Italian air forces into the skies for a showdown battle of strength and clear the skylines for invasion of Europe was launched by the Allies today.

Huge fleets of British and American planes roared out of United Kingdom and North African bases in assaults against Greece, the Ruhr Valley and the Island of Sicily, dealing out devastation to widely scattered targets and offering every invitation to the enemy to tangle in combat.

Nazis Still Hold Back

Despite increased resistance in some areas, the Allies have not yet succeeded in their original plan to get the Nazi air force off the ground in full strength. Yet that is exactly what is waited.

More than a year ago, when hard-pressed Soviet Russia made her initial demand for opening of a second front on the European continent, the Allied high command took every factor into consideration and

Opposition To War Food Czar By President

President Roosevelt Renews Opposition To Food Czar Proposal

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25—President Roosevelt today reviewed his opposition to the establishment of a food czar with overall powers over food prices, rationing and farm labor problems.

Replying to a question, Mr. Roosevelt told his news conference that the debate over the food czar issue could be summarized in the simple question "are you for inflation or aren't you?"

The chief executive observed that greatly increased production of food and farm products were necessary in war time, but that neither a food czar nor a congressional committee could achieve that.

Asked whether food administrator Chester C. Davis had tendered his resignation because of inadequate powers, President Roosevelt reiterated a statement made more than a week ago. Mr. Roosevelt said that LONDON, June 25—Another report that Italian Premier Benito Mussolini is seriously ill, emanating this time from Istanbul and reported by Reuters, said the news is being suppressed in Italy for fear of increasing war panic among Italians.

DRIVING AXIS INDUSTRY EAST

Day and night bombing by British and American air armadas of the vital industrial Ruhr valley is having one definite result within Germany—it is forcing German industry to move to the East and South from the white into the black area shown on the map—a wrong "drive to the east" for Adolf. The Allied strategy may be to drive it into these regions, out of easy bombing range, and then, by rapid invasion through the Balkans, render it useless to the German war machine by similar bombing attacks from new Balkan bases.

Germans Are Told Allies Are Massing For Invasion Move

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 25—A virtual admission that Allied troops will succeed in their initial invasion thrust against the European continent was made today by Nazi propaganda minister Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, although for obvious reasons he predicted ultimate German victory.

Makes Broadcast

In a broadcast which brought to a climax the recent Nazi campaign emphasizing the grave threat and the devastating effects of Allied aerial bombardments, Goebbels was quoted as saying:

"We are prepared day and night for the eventuality that they (the Allies) will put their threats into practise and we have enough reserves to be able to meet them effectively at any point of our continent after a certain intermediary time."

This phrase "certain intermediary time" was interpreted as clear indication the Germans admit the feasibility of Allied landings and base their hopes on dealing successfully with invasion forces after a beachhead has been established.

Massing For Attacks

Goebbels told the German people quite bluntly that Great Britain and

Claim Subsidy Plan Will Lose

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(I. N. S Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Senate opponents of use of subsidies to hold down food costs today claimed "plenty of votes" to overthrow the vital administration price control policy.

"More than a majority of the senate is opposed to the program," said Sen. George D. Aiken (R) Vt., a leader of the "farm bloc" fight against subsidies.

"Of course, it is possible that might be a change of heart under heavy pressure. Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Jones has been in the capitol openly lobbying and I understand that War Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes has been busy on the telephone."

Administration leaders, however, refused to concede defeat. Efforts to reach a vote failed yesterday. While the senate resumes debate today it was possible that the subsidy issue may be shunted aside again in favor of consideration of appropriation bills.

King George Back In Great Britain

Returns To England By Air Early Today After Trip To Africa

By JOSEPH WILLICOMBE, Jr.
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 25.—King George VI returned to England by air early today to conclude an historic journey by plane and warship to North Africa, the British Mediterranean island bastion of Malta and Tripoli.

Escorted by 10 spitfire fighter planes of the Royal Air Force, the king's four-engined bomber landed at an airport in England at 6:10 a. m. (12:10 a. m. EWT).

Dressed in the tropical uniform of a field marshall and looking remarkably well, the British monarch immediately alighted from the plane. He entered a waiting auto which carried hi mto the officers' mess at the airfield where tea was served.

King George arrived back on home soil earlier than expected after his fortnight of travel and had to wait at the airport for the arrival of Prime Minister Winston Churchill who came from London to meet him.

Five minutes after King George had gone to the mess hall, the huge black auto bearing the Prime Minister drove up and Churchill stepped out. He seemed to take an extra hard bite on his long cigar when he learned that the king already had arrived and had gone to the mess hall. The prime mister stepped back into his auto and went to join his majesty.

The king traveled 5,800 miles, according to the pilot, "without ever seeing an enemy plane, except on the ground."

Truce Deadline Not Recognized Says President

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—President Roosevelt declared today that he did not recognize the October 31 truce deadline set by John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers policy committee when they voted to end the strike and return the miners to the coal pits.

Asked at a news conference if he recognized the deadline, Mr. Roosevelt replied with an emphatic no. He added that he was trying to mine coal.

This indicated that the President would insist that coal be mined without stoppages for the duration of the war.

"O. K." ALL AROUND

WASHINGTON, June 25.—President Roosevelt was asked at his news conference today for comment on published Russian statements urgently appealing for a second front in Europe.

Mr. Roosevelt replied that his desire is just as strong as theirs, so everyone is together on that one.

President Will Reveal Position Before Midnight

Refuses To Give Indication Of Attitude On Bill At Conference

CONGRESS READY FOR ISSUE BATTLE

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—President Roosevelt today refused to reveal whether he would sign or veto the controversial Smith-Connally anti-strike bill, but said his position would be made known sometime before the deadline at midnight tonight.

Foresee Veto

Sources on Capitol Hill said meanwhile that the president would advise congress sometime today that he had vetoed the anti-strike bill on the grounds that it would tend to promote and sanction work stoppages instead of preventing them.

The president was asked at his regular news conference whether he was going to take congress into his confidence on the bill.

That, said the president, was a leading question and he refused to answer it.

Congressional leaders are ready for showdown votes on motions to override the veto as soon as the president's message is sent to congress, probably at noon.

Two Major Counts

Mr. Roosevelt, it was learned authoritatively, will veto the bill on two major counts:

1. That its provision for a 30-day "cooling off" period before a strike can be called might increase unrest and sentiment for a strike instead of reducing it.

2. That the provision calling for a secret ballot by workers before

Salamaua Is Bomb Target

Allied Fliers Blast Jap Base In New Guinea In Another Attack

(International News Service)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 25—Another heavy bombing raid on the Japanese base at Salamaua, New Guinea, and strafing of the enemy's forward positions in the nearby Mubo area were announced today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters.

Medium bombers heavily bombed and strafed airdrome buildings and other installations in a low-level attack on Salamaua and also raked the adjacent enemy-occupied villages of Nuknuk and Logui, destroying buildings and setting fuel and dumps ablaze.

No new ground action was reported at Mubo. But the communique said the Japs suffered more than 200 known casualties in futile attacks during the last few days against strategic positions held by Allied patrols. "Our losses were very light in proportion," the bulletin added.

Long-range fighters destroyed two grounded Jap reconnaissance bombers in a heavy strafing attack on an airdrome on Selaru Island in the Tenimber group.

Start Drive For War Food Czar

Congress To Seek One Man Control For Food Program

BROADER POWERS SEEN FOR DAVIS

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 25—A drive will be made in congress for passage of the bill giving the war food administrator sweeping control over every phase of the food program—including price regulations—before the legislature recesses for the summer, it was announced today by Chairman Fulmer (D) S. C., of the House Agriculture Committee.

The war food czar bill was approved by the agriculture committee, 18 to 8, despite President Roosevelt's opposition and personal pleas by War Mobilization Chief James F. Byrnes. Fulmer said that if the administration-dominated rules committee will send the bill to the floor, "it will pass the house in short order."

Fulmer's announcement came as Eric A. Johnston, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the food industry war committee threw their weight behind the demands for unifying food control in the hands of a single administrator.

Need Changes

Both Johnston, in a radio address, and members of the food industry, in a news conference, charged that the office of price administration has failed to solve the food problem and declared that one person must handle the critical situation.

Fulmer's committee approved the bill amidst reports that War Food Administrator Chester Davis had threatened to resign unless he is given broader powers to manage the food program.

Democratic party lines were shattered, with 13 Republicans and five Democrats on the committee voting for the measure and eight Democrats voting against it.

Some of the eight Democrats opposing the measure charged it was "politically inspired" and "ill advised."

The opposition to the measure, Fulmer said, developed after the house farm bloc paid a special visit to the White House to demand action clearing up some of the confusion on the domestic food front.

expressed dissatisfaction with the action of John L. directed entirely at the western half and last night's at the eastern half.

Great chemical and ball-bearing industries are located in Wuppertal, which has a total population of 411,000. The two towns of Elberfeld and Barmen cover a 10-mile stretch along the narrow Wupper valley.

The Nazis termed the assault on Wuppertal, last hit on May 29th by 1,500 tons of bombs in one of the war's heaviest attacks, a "terror raid".

It was admitted by the Germans that large quantities of high explosives and incendiaries were dropped.

The Nazis claimed 35 of Britain's bombers were shot down.

Concludes Gigantic Sweeps

The night-time attack came at the conclusion of gigantic sweeps throughout yesterday and last evening against a 300-mile stretch of the Channel invasion coast by forces of 400 to 500 R. A. F. bombers and fighters and many squadrons of United States attack forces.

Five airfields were heavily plastered as the Allied craft battered at numerous targets from Flushing, Holland, to the Cherbourg peninsula of France. It was believed that the assaults of the Nazi airfields were designed to keep German planes grounded to protect the return of King George VI from his historic visit to Allied troops in North Africa. The British monarch returned to England by plane early this morning.

British Intruder aircraft operated over occupied Holland during the night, destroying at least one enemy airplane.

There was slight activity by German aircraft over the southeast coast of England, but no serious incidents were reported.

planes had sunk two German patrol boats and a transport in the Barents Sea.

An attempt by German aircraft to raid localities near Leningrad was said to have resulted in the destruction of 19 Nazi planes.

On the Central front west of Moscow Soviet artillery shelled advanced positions of the Germans and destroyed eight pillboxes and a number of blockhouses.

West of Bielgorod, north of the large Nazi base of Smolensk, 180 Germans were slain in local fighting.

a strike would tend to give legal sanction to any work stoppage which might be voted.

The president has until midnight tonight in which to act before the bill would become a law without any action by him.

In the senate, where the final draft of the bill was approved 55 to 22 on June 12, the expectations are that the required two-thirds vote will be mustered to override the veto, but there is no such optimism on the part of house proponents of the legislation.

House Uncertain

On three house tests, the most votes for it at any time were 231. If all members are present and voting, 288 votes are necessary to override. House leaders seriously doubt that even if the senate votes to override, the house will still vote to sustain the veto.

It is known that congressional leaders for the last several days have repeatedly urged the White House against adverse action by the president on the bill. Sen. Byrd (D) Va., has warned openly that "millions of people will believe that the president made a deal" with John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and that "public morale will receive a severe blow."

In the house, prominent Democrats saw two results accruing from adverse presidential action on the bill: (1) Rejection by the ways and means committee of pending legislation to renew the Guffey coal act for two more years, and, (2), refusal to act on Mr. Roosevelt's proposal to amend the draft law so that persons up to 65 years of age who strike in government-owned or operated plants can be inducted into the army.

New Stinging Defeat Handed To Luftwaffe

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 25.—A force of 300 American warplanes lashed out at Sardinia, laying waste to Axis shipping and railway nerve centers while destroying 20 enemy aircraft in handing a new stinging defeat to the Luftwaffe, allied spokesmen announced today.

Simultaneously, a middle east command communique relayed from Cairo told of a smashing assault by American Liberator bombers against the Sedes airdrome at Salonica as the United States fliers struck suddenly at Nazi-held Greece. More than 250,000 pounds of explosive bombs ripped into vital installations at the field, used as a training base for enemy pilots, and it is doubtful that the drome will be useable for a long time.

The newest lacing dealt out to Sardinia came by daylight Thursday and cost the allies nine planes, an official statement revealed.

SEEK SHOWDOWN AIR POWER BATTLE WITH AXIS FORCES

reached the reluctant conclusion such a step would be suicidal until two things were achieved.

One was appreciable diminution of the U-boat menace. The other was unquestioned aerial superiority.

Sub Efficiency Hit

Vastly improved weapons of defense and attack have cut deeply into German submarine efficiency, and there no longer is any doubt that the Allies enjoy supremacy in the skies. But it is gail and wormwood to the Allied air command that Nazi Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering has hoarded his air strength, refusing to be drawn into the battle royal of the skies which would leave one side or the other once and for all the master of the heavens.

As a result, the bomber command of the Royal Air Force under direction of Air Marshal Sir Arthur Travers Harris has assumed a role in the war far exceeding in importance what was anticipated originally. It was not thought possible that Adolf Hitler would sacrifice one-third of the Ruhr Valley, as he already has done.

Would Be Costly

But up to the present, he has sent only moderate numbers of planes aloft against Allied bombers, and losses sustained by the British and Americans still are well within the 10 per cent maximum which is regarded as the economical ratio.

Obviously, if Hitler were willing and prepared to put a thousand interceptor planes into the skies at a single time, he could make these Allied raids an exceedingly costly proposition. But by the same token, he would lose planes by the hundreds instead of by the dozen.

And for the present at least, Hitler prefers to let his factories and his workers suffer.

The twin Ruhr town of Elberfeld-Barmen, remade by Hitler into a single municipality under the name of Wuppertal, was blasted by 600 British bombers during the night and only 33 were lost. Some 1,500 tons of bombs were dropped upon the Elberfeld region and tremendous damage was wrought.

Other British and American bombers from North Africa and the middle east meanwhile again raided Sardinia, blasting railway junctions, airfields and factories. A great fleet of planes roared across the Mediterranean to attack the Sedes airfield near Salonika, Greece, the finest in the country and one that is being used as a training base for Nazi pilots.

Bomb damage was reported so extensive the airdrome will be unuseable for a considerable period. Three hangars were hit and set on fire, together with grounded planes and the administration buildings.

With no new developments of importance occurring on the Russian front or in the Far East, all military attention was focused upon Europe and the probable events of the next few weeks.

OPPOSITION TO WAR FOOD CZAR BY PRESIDENT

when he asked Chester Davis if he wanted control over the OPA, Davis replied, "God forbid."

A reporter then asked President Roosevelt whether Davis did not want control over farm prices—now vested in the OPA.

No Direct Reply

Mr. Roosevelt did not reply directly to the question, but asked a question himself—what would happen to cost of food to the consumer if Davis or any food czar were given control over prices?

"Is he going to keep prices down to their present levels, or let them go higher," the President asked.

Mr. Roosevelt went on to observe that the cost of food represents roughly one third of the average worker's income, and that if food costs were permitted to rise, it would be followed by demands from labor for increased wages, touching off an inflationary spiral that could not be controlled.

At present food price rates, the President said, many Americans with war swollen incomes have enough money to buy more foods and better foods than they would in normal times and still have a surplus, even after buying their quota of war bonds.

Mr. Roosevelt asserted that it was within the right of congress to enact legislation permitting food prices to rise, but if such action is taken that congress would be 100 percent responsible and that the bonus is going to be completely on congress.

Mr. Roosevelt observed again that if the inflationary spiral is permitted to get out of hand, wealthy people would continue to be able to pay higher prices for foods, rents, clothing and other cost of living items, but the poor people would suffer.

The back-slapping of sun burned backs is being preceded this year, by "Victory garden backs." It is amusing to see the men in particular, standing around and comparing their backs and the places where soreness is evident due to attending and planting Victory Gardens, these past several days.

Frank McCreary of the Butler road on Thursday afternoon showed Pa Newc a small bush with what is called three green roses and buds thereon. The plant grow in a ten-inch deep flower pot. It is claimed that the bushes bloom constantly. The blooms are about the same color as the plant, and are more odd than pretty.

In these hot days and hot nights it would be advisable for persons who use their radios to keep them tuned down so that men can sleep during the day and night. Some turn on their radios so loud they can sit in the rear yard or on a porch and hear them unmindful that possibly next door or a few houses away some war worker or tired mother is trying to get a good night's rest.

Shortage Of Trucks Is Serious Problem

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 25.—Pennsylvania truckers were told today that the country is facing a critical shortage of highway transportation equipment because trucks are wearing out faster than they can be replaced.

"In the face of equipment and manpower limitations, trucks must be operated on extended schedules to meet the tremendous war transportation demands," the 10th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck association was told by Robert Cass, motor company engineer, of Cleveland, O.

"There is only one answer to the problem of keeping existing trucks in service for the duration," he said. "That is through effective maintenance procedures."

Early Commuters Delayed By Fire

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 25—Thousands of early morning commuters were made late for work today by a fire which swept through the offices of the American Airlines and tied up traffic near Grand Central station for more than an hour.

The blaze, discovered after 7 a. m. was extinguished only after a hard battle. Every window in the company's 16th floor office was blown out by combustion.

Traffic was rerouted around the important mid-town transportation terminal and commuters attempting to leave subways through nearby exits were held back. One fireman was overcome by smoke and treated at Bellevue hospital.

GERMANS ADE TOLD ALLIES ARE MASSING FOR INVASION MOVE

the United States are massing for attacks upon the continent and added:

"The only question is when and where."

The propaganda minister said there is no comparison between the fighting in North Africa and Pantelleria and the battle that will develop with invasion of Europe.

"If forces encounter one another in practically the same strength," he said, "we shall not be anxious about our final success."

With regard to aerial bombardment of German industrial cities, Goebbels admitted heavy damage to military establishments but insisted his could be repaired "in a short time." He said the Allies may soon have to consider whether losses sustained are worth while.

PROBE PLANE CRASH
(International News Service)

LOCK HAVEN, June 25—Civilian aeronautical administration authorities and state police today investigated the airplane crash which killed Michael Kanistras, 29, a war worker, when a trainer plane he was piloting plunged into a wheat field three miles from the municipal airport near Lamar.

No cause for the accident was immediately established. Kanistras had about 80 hours of flying experience and was on a practice flight when he crashed.

SEABEES FLOAT VISITING CITY

Land Ship Travels Over City Streets To Inform Citizens On Need Of Navy

Accompanied by Chief Frank J. Andrews, of Pittsburgh, the Seabees float, mounted on a truck body, and built in the shape of a ship, is in New Castle today to stimulate recruiting of men for this important branch of the naval service.

The Seabees are to the navy, what the Engineers Corps is to the army, and men who can qualify because of special training, are eligible to advanced ratings immediately on entering the service.

The float mounted a siren and a small cannon, the latter of which was discharged occasionally, letting people know that is was in the vicinity.

Men between the ages of 38 and 50 years, not eligible for the draft are desired, but men between 18 and 38 can secure release from the draft by volunteering for this branch of service. Youths of 17 who are not yet in the draft age group can also enlist, it is stated.

OREGON FAMILY PETS 'DOMESTICATED CAT'
(International News Service)

MYRTLE POINT, Ore.—There is one house in this town where it would not be wise to pet the cat.

This 22-pound pussy, called Stubby, will perch on the shoulders of members of the family and enjoys being carried about the place. But he reserves the right to pick up fondlers—and is capable of enforcing his wishes.

Stubby is a "domesticated" wildcat.

RAID JAP BASES
(International News Service)

LONDON, June 25.—American bombers raided three Japanese bases in the Solomons by daylight today, Reuter's News agency reported in a dispatch from a South Pacific base.

Police Enforce Curfew Ordinance

Policeman Michael Fazzone and Policewoman Minnie McKibben made a tour of the city last night to enforce the curfew ordinance which provides that all persons under 17 years of age be out of public places and streets at 11 p. m. Policeman Arthur Lowers found one juvenile in West Shenango street and others who apparently were not 17 were stopped. Police are enforcing the ordinance. The curfew whistle was heard last night.

NOMURA AGAIN, OF ALL PEOPLE

AS IF the Italians' plight weren't bad enough already, they've had to endure a pep talk by Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura of Japan to the effect that "the Tripartite Powers do not have to attack any more to win; they need only to hold out in conquered positions." This is because, says Nomura, "Japan is invincible," and, he adds, "Britain and the United States may yet expect many surprises from Japan."

Nomura, it will be recalled, was Tokio's ambassador to Washington at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack. He's a slippery customer, as bad as they come, advises the Philadelphia Inquirer. It'll be sad if the Italians take his advice about standing firm for victory, because one of these days the United States may hand a little surprise to Japan that will knock Nomura's Tripartite Powers baloney right into the middle of the China sea.

GETTING ORGANIZED

David Lloyd George, Britain's war leader in the first world conflict, was, in the parlance of current slang, "cooking on the front burner," when he gave it as his opinion that the recent Washington conferences had resulted in a decision that the war against Japan should be carried on simultaneously with that against Germany.

He was also very likely in a lucid mental state when he predicted Britain will concentrate on Burma while America attacks at one or more points in the western Pacific. As Britain attacks in Burma, America might, for example, be getting back into the Philippines from which point a severance of Japan's lifeline with its southern conquests would be feasible. From that position a knockout blow could be dealt Japan.

This is not to say that the attack against Japan will proceed as swiftly as that against Germany. A rainy season precludes military action in Burma for weeks. Distances involved in the Pacific are so much greater than those in Europe that it will necessarily take a great deal longer to get into position for an offensive. But preliminary preparafor the Pacific offensives are well along, which would not be true if the decision was merely to hold in the Pacific until Hitler is polished off.

Even a Japanese attack on Russia, still predicted occasionally, would not prolong the conflict in that area. It would divert Jap strength and would not alter the basic Allied strategy, which is to cut the Japanese empire in two and then go after the pieces.

FIGHTING MALARIA

It is heartening news that the doctors are making headway against the tropical diseases in the South Pacific, most prevalent of which is malaria. It is not always possible, of course, for soldiers suffering from it to take daily doses of quinine or atebrine when prescribed or to sleep under nets when directed, but because the ailment is of a type that repeats, the Army is taking all precautions against it.

Progress in minimizing its attacks has been substantial. A spokesman for Allied headquarters in Australia says:

"The malarial sick rate of Allied troops in tropical areas subject to mosquito infection while originally high is being rapidly reduced. The disease here is not the malignant type and mortality has consequently been extremely low. Its manifestations are not normally acute but are often recurrent, the same patient re-entering the hospital many times, thereby swelling the total of sick treatments to seemingly disproportionate figures.

"The medical service, in cooperation with line commanders, is gradually but successfully combating the disease and precautionary measures are yielding the desired results."

Doctors are establishing many milestones in medicine in the present war. It is not too much to hope that malaria may be finally conquered as a result of the work of the medicos in the armed forces.

MOST FOR THE LEAST

Inclusion of Sardinia along with Sicily in the demolishing air attacks the Allies are delivering on the approaches to Italy may be preliminary to an invasion of Mussolini's shrinking domain from a point far removed from the spot generally regarded as likely to receive the blow.

It is presumed by many observers that the Allies will invade Sicily and proceed from there into the toe of the Italian boot. A fighting advance the length of the Italian peninsula would follow. But a short cut would be from Sardinia into the middle or northern Italian provinces. A thrust across the peninsula in that region would segregate Rome and the southern provinces.

Some correspondents who formerly were stationed in Italy and who have written lately of probable military strategy say an invasion attempt would plausibly be directed toward the north of Italy because it is least defended and would offer the speediest route for the complete severing of Italy and Germany. From a northern position the Allies would be able to send swift prongs toward Brenner Pass and around the Mediterranean shores into southern France.

Always keeping in mind the realities of a situation, if is a safe guess that the Allies will proceed with their Mediterranean job with an eye to getting the speediest results at the lowest cost. That is why they are doing so thorough a job with bombers before invading.

When invasion comes, it will be planned to get the biggest results at a minimum cost.

WORLD BANK

Plans for an international bank with a multi-billion dollar capacity to extend liberal, long-term credits to governments throughout the world are taking form in Washington and London.

Leaders of the administrations in power in the two nations believe such an institution is necessary to the financing of a war-torn world. It is inherent in all currency stabilization plans, and it is contended that world rehabilitation of agriculture will be impossible without a central lending agency. It would also come to the aid of nations requiring financing of imports.

A country desiring outside capital to rebuild bomb and shell-wrecked cities, docks, power plants, transportation systems and industrial facilities could turn to a world bank, it is argued, if satisfactory financing were not available through normal channels.

But the project goes considerable farther. A now visualized, its doors would be open to countries seeking money to be used in the development and expansion of their respective economies. A tremendous pressure for loans would descend upon such a bank.

Experts who profess to be fearful of inflation and to be seeking its causes seem to overlook the fact that money in circulation has been boosted from $4,000,000,000 in 1928 to $16,000,000,000.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

LET CHILD DO THINGS FOR SELF

MANY a child would talk or walk earlier than he does, if no one urged him to do so. Some children, indeed, talk or walk very late because their parents try so very hard to make them. The moment you annoy a child when you want him to learn, you hamper his learning.

Talk to your infant almost constantly, in soft tones, while you care for him during his waking periods. Don't, of course, do so very often at other times lest he command your attention constantly. Ae he grows older, creeps, walks and toddles, talk to him a great deal about what you are doing for him or with him or about what he is doing. Have him associate with other children of his age. But don't urge him to talk.

Read to him from a well-illustrated page. Begin as soon as he will look at a picture for half a minute at a stretch. This is just talking from the book about the picture. Remove the book as soon as his interest lags.

Keep on reading to him as he gains in enjoyment of it. My special list of books from which to read to the baby and young child may be had by writing me in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Parents Need Patience

If your child is slow in developing speech, be patient. Have the doctor check on his hearing. If as he talks, he does not speak plainly, or has difficulty with certain sounds, make such sounds and say such words slowly and distinctly. Use them more often than other words, even selecting rhymes or stories including them.

Be careful not to make him self-conscious of his difficulties. Never keep at it to the point of annoying, nor try to help him when others are present. You might get the child of four or five to watch your mouth as you say these words or sounds or look in the mirror as you or he does.

If your young child stutters, write me for my special bulletin on "Stuttering." Ever so many mothers who have followed the instructions in it have written me that the stuttering disappeared. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Suppose your boy or girl of 15 cursed you.

A. I should try to be calm and silent them and wait for several hours or days till he and I had re-established fine relations before saying a word about the matter. Then I should attempt, in the tenderest way I could, to induce him to resolve to try not to repeat such abusiveness toward me or anybody else. Thereafter I should compliment him on the slightest show of gain in self-control. If he were only four or five, however, I should immediately spank him soundly for calling me or anybody else in my presence an ugly name.

Q. Do you have some suggestions to help my high school daughter study more effectively?

A. I shall be glad to send her my "Tips to Students" without cost to her. Just have her write me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it. Also I have prepared a special list of books on how to study effectively, to be had in like manner.

Q. Our baby 18 months old has gotten into the habit of running away from us when we want to have him come to us, hoping, it seems that we will chase him.

A. In case he starts running, stand indifferently where you are, unless he faces danger. When all is calm and you are near him, get him. Don't expect a child so young to come to you when you ask him to do so.

Q. What would you do if an uncle or neighbor constantly teased your young child?

A. I should try to prevail on the person to quit annoying the youngster. If necessary, I should cut off friendly relations rather than to have the child so harmed.

THE STORY OF WAR

At first men fought with clubs and stones,
Which kept their wars to little zones,
But by and by the wheel was made
And fiercer grew the warrior's trade.
The tribe which left its fate to chance
Went down before the pointed lance.

As time went on, with defter skill
Man fashioned surer ways to kill.
The Roman legions built machines
Which added to war's fearful scenes,
And seeing slaughter so increase
'Twas fancied men would cherish peace.

'Tis thus the tale of warfare runs:
Came powder next and with it guns!
Then sages said: "The human race
Such cruel weapons cannot face.
No generation can survive
The grim devices men contrive!"

But every truth which science learned
To things for making war was turned
And more and more the horror grew
As knowledge fashioned weapons new.
And still we say: "War can't survive
The fearful weapons men contrive!

DISPLAYING PUBLIC ANGER

"Recently, I have been going around with a generous, devoted man whose one great fault is his bad habit of fussing with waiters, taxicab drivers and others who wait on us. Since this is embarassing to me, do you think I will be justified in reproving him for this? I have, until now, suffered in silence."—Marge.

Answer: Not only would you be entirely justified in reproving him but at the same time you would be doing a great public service.

No woman must endure this humiliation. Next time, tell him quietly—after you are out of hearing of the person castigated by him—that his rages are embarrassing to you . . that he may give verbal vent to uncontrolled anger when alone but not in your presence.

If he resents your criticism or continues with his loud display of rudeness, refuse to see him again. For if you continue your association with him, you may one day become one of his victims.

My candid opinion is that he is naturally rude, ill-bred and not used to the finer things of life. People who are "born to the purple" are never haughty to the humble nor humble to the haughty.

Question: How should I seat guests at an informal dinner party? —Mrs. B.

Answer: The host and hostess sit at opposite ends of the table. The woman guest-of-honor sits at the right of the host, and the woman next in importance at his left. The man guest-of-honor sits at the hostess' right and the man second in importance at her left. The other guests can be seated according to their congeniality, no two men nor two women nor married couples being placed together if this can possibly be avoided.

Mayor LaGuardia Unafraid Of Probe
Investigation May Prove Beneficial
His Washington Reputation Made Him

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York won his national reputation for orginality as a congressman in Washington. In his own little Manhattan representatorial district he doubtless already had established himself before his bailiwick sent him to the country's capital. Otherwise his urban neighbors probably wouldn't have picked him for his legislative seat under the dome alongside the Potomac. It was as as one of the whole country's lawmakers, though, that he registered on a sufficiently outstanding scale to land him in the chief executive's office in Uncle Sam's continental metropolis.

The fact is that Capitol Hill regards him as rather more ITS product than Gotham's.

Well, Fiorello is assessed by Washingtonian statesmen as a pretty advanced political liberal, or maybe as an unqualified radical. Conservatives have viewed him askance consequently. But I've never heard one of them imply that he wasn't absolutely on the level. As one editorial commentator has expressed it, "he's been as honest as it's POSSIBLE for a politician to be."

Yes, he hasn't been celebrated for good temper.

When he has been criticized he has "sassed back" energetically.

Thus, when Manhattan's city council voted an investigation of his municipal administration, congress' reaction was that his comment would be something super-scorching.

To the amazing contrary, his immediate verdict was that the council was entirely "within its rights"—let it investigate. His only qualification was that its quiz shouldn't be made ridiculously expensive—but he didn't put any lid on it.

Now, if New York City hasn't had a lot of grafting administrative subdivisions, it's news to the rest of the United States.

It's a fair conclusion that Fiorello has been kept guessing on them.

The truth is that the "Little

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

I don't know whether you have ever seen that little newspaper feature called the "Wishing Well".

You put some numbers together and find out what's in store for you.

Lots of people believe in it, lots don't.

But that's neither here nor there.

At any rate a fellow who is seventy years old wrote to the chap who gets out the "Wishing Well" and said:

"Will you please put these in your Wishing Well. It may help me to get my wife to come home to me, as she reads your feature every day, same as I do."

He enclosed a piece of paper with twenty-four predictions for the wife. Here are a few: You made bad mistake. Go back to enjoy life. You need his love. You were misguided. Your health will fail. A love you can't forget. Etc., etc.

Well, what do you think of that?

Here's a fellow, three score and ten, who believes in something and knows that his wife believes in it.

Yet, he asks the author of the thing in which he believes to commit a fraud in order to accommodate him.

I don't know anything about the septuagenarian's married life.

But I have a suspicion that his wife left him because she was on to him.

Somehow the longer I live, the more I get to believe in the Golden Rule.

Not so much because I'm a great moralist, but because it's common sense.

I don't think that deceit deceives many people very long, and I believe that if a fellow is smart enough to be a good liar he is smart enough to know that it's much easier to tell the truth.

A good liar has to be a good actor, too. He has to have a good memory. He must know logic to make his lies sound plausible.

And if a person has all these accomplishments he doesn't have to lie.

Liars are usually cowards or fools. They lie because they are afraid or too stupid to tell the truth. They fear punishment or contempt.

No, Mister, I don't think you'll get your wife back that way.

That's probably how you lost her in the first place.

What Noted People Say

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt: "The action of the leaders of the United Mine Workers coal miners has been intolerable—and has rightly stirred up the anger and disapproval of the overwhelming mass of the American people."

LONDON—Aliver Lyttelton, British minister of production: "Great Britain will finish off the job against Japan with the same intensity and efficiency with which we are waging war against Germany."

WASHINGTON—Wei Tao-Ming, Chinese ambassador to the United States: "The Japanese are becoming so inhuman I don't know under what conditions anyone could live with them—they are animals . . . animals."

NEW YORK—Senator Joseph H. Ball of Minnesota: "If delegating a little of their sovereignty to a United Nations organization will give us an even chance of eliminating this plague of World War, it is my conviction that the American people will regard it as a good bargain."

The World and the Mud Puddles

THE INDIAN GIVER

William Green solemnly proclaims the anti-strike law, passed by congress, to be a "Fascist measure, pointed like a revolver at the heart of labor."

Since the bill is aimed at none but those who inspire, encourage or call strikes in war industry plants operated by the government, it would be interesting to know precisely what Mr. Green has in mind. The A. F. of L. president, it will be recalled, piously promised the President a few months ago that there would be no strikes for the duration of the war.

A few years ago, when some employers objected to signing the type of rigid union contracts which a new labor law not only encouraged but made mandatory, but who expressed a willingness to abide by the terms as long as business conditions permitted, Mr. Green and other high ranking labor leaders, along with their echoes, were bitterly sarcastic. Why, they asked, were the employers not willing to sign a contract if they were willing otherwise to comply with its terms? The employers were not objecting so much to the conditions imposed at that particular moment; they objected to signing longtime contracts with no assurance that future business conditions would warrant the additional expense and restrictions upon management.

The situation now is reversed. If Mr. Green is willing to pledge all of his unions to the no-strike agreement for the duration of the war, which he did, then why does he object to a law which would penalize those leaders who ignore his word? He himself agreed to the very conditions which the law seeks to uphold and protect. How is a law which is designed to give force to his promise a "Fascist measure, pointed like a revolver at the heart of labor?" Mr. Green and others of his kind now are entitled to be confronted with the same sarcastic query which they directed at employers a few years ago.

The one thing that so many men like Green and Lewis and others who lead or pretend to lead the labor movement do not understand or admit is that uninterrupted production is the only issue that matters. Of what importance is it which labor boss wins a jurisdictional dispute, another concession, a little more power or a larger membership in his union, if we lose the war? And we can lose it. A prolonged repetition of the coal strike, and a spread of similar treason to a few other major activities, and our hopes of victory would be gone. We might wangle a negotiated peace of some sort, providing we were able to effect a stalemate for several years, at a cost of several millions of lives, but no victory. Without victory all the temporary little gains which the labor leaders squall will be meaningless. For in that event, we will do as we are told, not as we would choose.

"A Fascist measure, aimed like a revolver at the heart of labor." That describes precisely the strike threats, the only difference being that such strikes are aimed at the heart of America.

One Man's Opinion

Well, you'll have to figure out for yourself whether the boss wants a law or a club.

There's a near-law on his desk now...if it hasn't blown out the window...and there have been a dozen other bills which have been led down dark alleys and smothered with a pillow.

But none was half as tough as the proposal to take men 65 years old and stick them in an army uniform.

Up until now a man of 65 had nothing to worry about but who to see and where to go for his old age pension.

That is if he was alive at 65. If he wasn't he didn't have to see anybody about anything...the lucky stiff.

Well it was old T. R. who said "walk softly and carry a big stick" and anyone knows that the boss has walked softly enough these many months.

Maybe now he wants to complete the terms of the quotation. He wants the big stick.

Wilson carried it and it worked.

Thought for the day: There oughta be a law.

Owners Demand Return Of Mines

Ickes Calls Meeting Of Nation's Leading Coal Producers Today

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The government ventured "actively" into the coal mining business today with the mine owners loudly demanding return of their properties and defiant "wildcat" strikes still spreading in the coal fields.

Against this inauspicious background, Coal Czar Harold L. Ickes scheduled a 10:30 a. m. conference with 29 of the nation's leading coal producers to map a program for federal control of the pits and "active government participation in the supervision of management and operation."

B. F. Fairless, president of United States Steel, and Eugene Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel company, topped the list of coal executives whom Ickes summoned to Washington. He warned that "proxies" were not expected.

At the same time, United Mine Workers officials were in constant contact with local unions, seeking to enforce compliance with the "back-to-work" order issued by the international policy committee last Tuesday to end the third general strike of 540,000 miners.

Flower" is under attack, not from honest folk, but from crooks, who object to his interference with their grafting.

Indeed, I've heard critics maintain that he has hampered war work by being too "honest." That is, he is suspected of having caused delay and trouble by imposing delay and moralities in cities that do not altogether indorse them.

And the other municipalities may fall within the same classification, but New York naturally is a conspicuous one.

"Advertise it" is Fiorello's motto.

His program is to make it conspicuous everywhere. New York is where to make it noticeable from everywhere likewise.

A kind of a general mayoralty is his scheme.

It won't work in little burgs, but Fiorello's is to concentrate on it.

He is a "national mayor."

His plan is to get little groups together. The little groups do not altogether like being merged. So they are "investigating" him.

"Let them investigate," answers Fiorello.

His case is an outstanding example.

He isn't afraid of being quizzed. He ditto's other local administrations.

A lot of little municipal branches may be crooked. "Okay," says the "Little Flower," "but it's immaterial in general. In detail, let them be investigated—including mine. I'm not scared personally."

The thing has strung along for years back. You can't correct it in a decade of time.

If anybody thinks that this is going to be respectable in wartime short-order, morally speaking, he is an optimist.

But Fiorello is willing to be investigated. He is willing to have his administration investigated, anyway.

It won't be a federal investigation, but it will amount to the same thing.

It won't fall far short of an inquiry, if the New York's mayor's slate is clean, to qualify him for the presidency some time later. He is of Italian parentage, but his birth is Americanly eligible.

It won't happen, of course, but, otherwise, he would have his possibilities.

Aids Recruiting Of Farm Labor Here

O. Walker Shannon Will Assist Farmers Of Lawrence And Beaver Counties

Announcement was made today by J. Audley Boak, chairman of the Lawrence county farm labor committee, that the services of O. Walker Shannon, of Beaver county, have been secured to help in the recruitment of farm labor in the two counties. He will work out of the office of the farm labor committee, in the Pennsylvania Power company building here.

Mr. Shannon is well known to farmers in the two counties and has been active in Grange work for a number of years.

Farmers wishing to secure farm labor are asked to contact the farm labor office in the Power company building, and anyone who can give even a few hours of his time to help out in this tremendous war effort is asked to notify the office.

Quite a large amount of help has already been furnished through the local office, but there is still a big demand for farm labor in the county.

FOUR NURSES COMMISSIONED

Become Ensigns In U. S. Naval Reserve Corps; Awaiting Call To Service

Three nurses from the Jameson Memorial hospital and one from the New Castle hospital have received commissions recently as ensigns in the United States Naval Reserve Nurses Corps and are awaiting assignment to duty, it was announced today by the Nurses Recruitment Committee of the local Red Cross chapter.

Graduate nurses who have received their commissions are: Miss Phyllis Scungio, nurse at the New Castle hospital, and the Misses Lois Gibson, Mary Thomassy, and Maxine Staats, of the Jameson Memorial hospital. The four nurses are still on duty here but expect to receive their navy assignments very shortly.

Currently the Nurses Recruitment Committee is conducting a drive to recruit nurses from this county, and in addition from Butler and Beaver counties for army and navy service. Mrs. Helen Vondereau is chairman of the recruitment for the Lawrence county chapter with Mrs. W. W. Duff as vice-chairman, and Mrs. Olive Key, secretary.

Honor roll of nurses already in service from the local hospitals, who joined within the last year and a half, in addition to the four newly commissioned ensigns, include:

Jameson nurses: Katherine Jones, Ruth Moore, Elizabeth Kendall, Gladys Allen, Lora King, Barbara Woleslagle, Betty Woleslagle, Josephine Biedka, Jean De Garmo, Mrs. Marjorie C. French, Margaret Grundy, Bernice McGrath, Margaret Hanhauser, Mary McPeak, Madeline D'Eletto, Norma Donato, Vera Rose Patton, Mrs. Mary McKenna and Lucy Johns.

From the New Castle: Josephine Boron, Gertrude Crable, Kathryn Donnelly, Rose DiThomas, Beulah Filban, Frances Hood, Margaret Joseph, Beatrice Jenkins, Mary Marsic, Doris Miles, Alice Reed, Nora Thompson, Frances Wallas, Nellie Whitlach, Mary Orlando, Dorothy Shaffer, Della Ulch and Eileen McPeak.

SAYS REINDEER MILK PREVENTS TOOTH DECAY

(International News Service)

CHICAGO. — Reindeer milk drinkers and fish egg eaters, such as Eskimos, never have toothaches, according to Dr. Weston A. Price, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Dr. Price, summarizing the results of his research on tooth decay in the current issue of the Journal of the American Dental Association, stated that a substance found in those two foods has brought striking recovery of tooth decay in children.

Butter-fat from dairy animals exposed to lush green pasture, is the best modern substitute for the food that gives Eskimos their splendid teeth, Dr. Price maintained.

WHAT HAPPENED TO FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

AFTER SEVEN WEEKS of intensive work, laboratory researchers have discovered the reason why certain batches of Fletcher's Castoria caused nausea.

Methods of preventing a recurrence of the trouble are now known and manufacture is being resumed.

No Fletcher's Castoria has been made during this seven-week period, and at its begining the makers issued a nationwide warning to consumers and retailers not to use or sell the product and to return all stocks for destruction.

The U. S. Food and Drug Administration has been kept informed of all these developments.

Q. What caused the trouble?

A. The sugar content of Fletcher's Castoria was reduced to conserve sugar under wartime conditions. A year ago, Castoria was made with this reduced sugar content and was up to standard in every respect. This year, in March, we again started production with reduced sugar.

However, at that time a chemical change — harmless in itself—occurred in the characteristics of the water used in making Castoria. But this change, in combination with the reduced sugar, increased the degree and rate of normal fermentation. The more rapid fermentation retarded normal re-oxidation during the ageing process, resulting in a product which caused nausea.

Q. Why didn't normal tests show that something was wrong?

A. The changes which occurred were so elusive that they could not be detected by the regular testing procedures—procedures which had kept Castoria a respected product for more than seventy-five years. In fact, even after the nauseating effect was discovered in actual use, it took weeks of laboratory research to identify the factors that were causing the trouble.

Q. What are the makers doing to prevent a recurrence of the trouble?

A. Now that the cause is known, procedures have been put in effect which will assure normal re-oxidation of the product. Additional safeguards have been set up. New laboratory controls have been installed. New biological and chemical tests will be applied to every batch of Fletcher's Castoria. Each bottle will be stamped with a plainly visible control number, in verification of these tests.

Q. Is Fletcher's Castoria now on sale?

A. No. Manufacture has been resumed, but because of the time required for manufacture and distribution it may be about two months before Castoria will again be on sale at your retailer's. When it is, you will be notified in your local newspaper.

Q. Will the package be the same?

A. No. The Fletcher's Castoria now being made will bear a distinctive green band. This green band is for your protection in case any old Castoria has not been returned.

President Shows Some Annoyance On 'Second Front'

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—President Roosevelt today said his desire for the opening of a second front in Europe is just as strong as that of Soviet Russia.

So, he added, everybody agrees.

The President made this curt statement at his news conference when asked if he had any comment on the fact the Soviet government is again expressing its strong desire for a second front.

A slight sign of irritation was apparent in President Roosevelt's reply, but it was not clear whether he was annoyed at the reporter for asking the question or at Moscow's action in raising the issue publicly again at this time.

Recent Moscow reports have indicated that the new clamor for a second front has been prompted by Soviet fear that the United States and Great Britain intend to delay a major invasion of Western Europe until it has been ascertained whether air power can bring about a collapse of Germany's war effort.

CAPTURE, SOONER OR LATER

Authorities said today that "sooner or later the gang that is operating at the West Side playground to the detriment of the place will be caught". The gang was reportedly there at 12:10 a. m. today. Authorities believe it decidedly "bad taste" for young people to destroy equipment after the city appropriated quite a sum of money so that the young people can play in safety, hence punishment is ahead of those who may be apprehended.

Washington Perks Up Over Scandal

White-Slave Trial Drags In Some Of Latin-American Diplomatic Set

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Washington society, wilted by the heat wave and bored by talk of rollbacks and rationing, today perked up over one of the choicest scandals of the year as the White Slave trial of a pretty 29-year-old Spanish Orhumba dancer involved prominent, but unnamed, members of the Latin American diplomatic set.

At cocktail parties and country club bars gossip and speculation buzzed over the identity of two married Latin American ambassadors whom brunette, Spanish-accented Carmen Beach Martin, the defendant, admitted having "entertained" at her apartment in the fashionable northwest section near "Embassy Row."

Carmen said she had entertained "several members of the Chinese embassy and two ambassadors" in her apartment. A prominent member of a South American embassy was mentioned.

Pressed for names, Carmen tossed her black hair and exclaimed:

"Never weel I reveal the name of a married man."

A lot of other Washington prominents—diplomats, politicians, even army officers—were perspiring and wishing for the trial to be over quickly, because of a little book found in Carmen's apartment, that listed telephone numbers and named names.

The prosecution, however, was being discreet—what with the good neighbor policy, and all that—and kept these names secret, at least for the time being.

Killer In Ohio Love Tragedy Is Held Insane

Slew Ex-Sweetheart As She Walked Home From Church Service

LISBON, O., June 25.—Francis M. Holland, 45, a steel worker, charged with first degree murder in the shooting, May 2, of his former sweetheart, Miss Phoebe Peachey of East Liverpool, is insane, Dr. Arthur G. Hyde, superintendent of the Massillon State hospital, today advised Judge Joel H. Sharp of the Columbiana county court.

Holland, whose trial had been set for July 8, was committed to the state hospital early in June for observation.

Dr. Hyde declared the prisoner is suffering from an organic brain disease and would be unable to aid his own defense

Court officials said a sanity commission would be appointed to pass upon Holland's case, and he probably would be committed to the Lima state hospital for the criminally insane.

Holland, who is held at the Massillon hospital, surrendered to police 24 hours after he shot and killed Miss Peachey as she walked home from church services in East Liverpool.

Many Cans Not As Yet Sent To Detinning Plants

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 25.—More than 6,300,000 tin cans collected by local salvage committees have not been sent to de-tinning plans despite the growing need for the metal, the state defense council disclosed today.

Salvage officials, who said the cans would fill a 47-car freight train, hinted that the missing cans may be piled in sheds, yards, and salvage depots awaiting shipment on the traffic-clogged railroads.

"More than 700 tons of tin cans have been collected in the state since January 1 that have not found their way to detinning plants," said Colley S. Baker, director of the state salvage committee. "They are vitally needed today. Those 700 tons of tin cans would produce 14,000 pounds of pure tin and 693 tons of steel scrap needed by open nearth furnaces."

MERCER COAL MAN, J. W. ELY, DIES

(Special To The News)

MERCER, June 25.—The Mercer community was shocked Thursday morning by the announcement of the sudden death of John Wilfred Ely, aged 54, of 116 North Otter street, which occurred Wednesday night in the Montefiore hospital, Pittsburgh, after a brief illness.

He had been connected with the coal industry for a number of years. The family came to Mercer in 1921, when he opened the Pennsy coal mine near Leesburg. Disposing of it he had been variously employed on federal projects connected with the coal effort for the war.

Chinese say they can sit and rest without thinking. In America only brainworkers can get by with it.

NEWS AND VIEWS AT CAPITAL

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 25 — Gov. Edward Martin's address to the governors' conference at Columbus, Ohio, was the 29th prepared speech he has delivered since he was inaugurated January 19. In addition, he has made many extemporaneous speeches at luncheons and dinners. There were no indications, however, that he was attempting to place himself in position for consideration as a presidential candidate as did his predecessor, Arthur H. James. The former governor attempted to win support during the early part of his term but his presidential dream was shattered at the 1940 Republican national convention in Philadelphia when the delegates stampeded into Wendell Willkie's corner on the sixth ballot.

The department of public instruction has disclosed that more than 200,000 junior and senior high school pupils throughout the state are enrolled in home economics courses which have been revised to "meet the present-day needs in home and family living and to strengthen the home front during the war period". The program embraces wartime consumer buying problems, nutrition, home nursing, child care, home management and food preservation.

A detailed survey of Pennsylvania's boundaries has added 176 square miles to the commonwealth, according to the department of public instruction. The state's area now is officially 45,302.33 square miles as compared with the old figure of 45,126, excluding 891 square miles in Lake Erie. The error was uncovered during a survey completed by state geologists in cooperation with federal officials. The department currently is engaged in mapping the state on a basis of one inch for every mile. When completed, the maps will show political boundaries, roads, streams, houses, railroads as well as the topography of the state. The mapping is approximately 93 per cent completed. Pennsylvania's Lake Erie claim is comprised of the lake bottom between the south shore of the lake and a line drawn through the middle.

Governor Martin has drawn up a sharp contrast between the costs of World War 1 and the present conflict. When America entered the war in 1917 federal expenditures were less than $2,000,000,000 annually and two years later had jumped to $18,500,000,000. In 1942, he said, more than $33,000,000,000 was spent while officials have estimated that approximately $82,000,000,000 will be spent this year and $106,500,000,000 next year. In addition, the federal deficit in 1919 was only $19,500,000,000 while in 1943 the debt will reach the staggering sum of $71,000,000,000. Since June, 1940, when America began to gird itself for war, more than $213,000,000,000 has been spent by the federal government, the governor stated.

Nine Jap Subs Reported Sunk

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—The Los Angeles "Times" says at least nine Japanese submarines, possibly others, have been sunk off California and Oregon by navy and coast guard surface and air forces since Pearl Harbor.

The "Times" says the tabulation was entirely unconfirmed by the Navy but based upon substantial data.

Most of the Jap subs were sunk in the opening weeks of the war, says the newspaper, after six American freighters had been attacked offshore, and the effect was to drive the Nipponese subs from American waters.

FOUR HUNDRED FACE CHARGES IN DETROIT RIOTS

May Take Three Months To Try All Arrested In Connection With Riots

(International News Service)

DETROIT, June 25—As Detroit gradually returned to normal life, recorder's judges settled down today to what is expected to be a three-month job of trying approximately 400 prisoners accused of felonies in connection with Monday's fatal race rioting.

All cases other than those resulting from the riot will be shunted aside, it was announced, and 10 recorder's judges, assisted by a circuit judge, will work from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily hearing cases ranging from inciting a riot to murder.

Prosecutor William Dowling reported to Gov. Harry Kelly that he has recommended 203 felony warrants and will recommend 200 more.

Meanwhile, Kelly and other officials differed over the advisability of a grand jury to inquire into the cause of the riot and fix the responsibility.

Kelly said he believes a 23-man, hand-picked jury will act as a deterrent against further trouble, although he will not insist on its formation. Dowling, however, announced he is opposed to the proposed jury unless there is evidence the riot was planned.

"So far, we have no such evidence," he said, concurring with a statement by Detroit FBI Chief John Bugas.

Meantime, 587 prisoners face misdemeanor charges, principally that of disturbing the peace. Yesterday 56 more were given 90 days in jail, the maximum for this charge.

With the coroner's official death toll standing at 31 and 3,800 troops still patrolling, Detroiters were allowed on the streets until midnight last night for the first time since the riot. The city was quiet and law-abiding.

Parks and playgrounds are now open, and movies are permitted to operate until 11 p. m. Sale of liquor by the drink is allowed until 10 p. m. Beer and wine can be sold for home consumption, but state liquor stores remained locked.

Belle Isle, city park where the riot started Sunday night, reopened for the first time yesterday. Although there was no trouble, soldiers and police were assigned there. The island was closed at 11 p. m.

FRACTURES NOSE

Clarence Milton Hogue, of Castlewood, R. D. 1, age 16 years, son of James Hogue, was admitted to the New Castle Hospital, Thursday evening at 8:05 o'clock, suffering with a fractured nose. The youth was riding on the running board of a car, near his home, and was struck across the nose by a branch of a nearby tree. He is still confined to the hospital, where he received medical attention.

PLAN CONVOY TRIP SUNDAY

Trucks To Make Test Run To New Wilmington, Volant And Return

Instruction in evacuation and convoy work will be tested out Sunday afternoon when a practice convoy will make a 27-mile trip to Volant by way of New Wilmington and return. The convoy is the first trial to be made since the evacuation and convoy school was started two weeks ago by the Lawrence county chapter, Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association.

The trucks which take part in the practice convoy are asked to be at the Pennsylvania Power building on South Jefferson street at 1:30 Sunday afternoon Trucks should be parked headed north. Some preliminary instructions will be given before leaving and at 2:30 the convoy will move out with Robert Loudon and Orville Dibbley as convoy commanders. Roy C. Frampton and Ralph S. Reed are in charge of details for the trip.

About 25 trucks have been signed up for the convoy and there is still room for more. The route will be from the Pennsylvania Power company building up Jefferson street, on to Walmo, cross at Walmo to the Coaltown road and thence to New Wilmington. From New Wilmington the convoy moves to Volant and thence back to New Castle. Arriving at New Castle the convoy will go to the yard of Mooney Brothers on Mahoning avenue.

The practice convoy will be run under simulated bombing conditions and will move according to the instructions of the army. Motorists are asked not to cut in and out of the convoy on the highways but only to pass upon signal from the truck driver ahead.

FREE CLINICS HELP DISCHARGED SOLDIERS

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 25—Members of Uncle Sam's armed forces discharged from active service because of physical disabilities will be given free clinical treatment at the Philadelphia Osteopathic Hospital and, if possible, made fit for work in war industries.

The "no charge' use of clinic facilities was opened to those honorably discharged service men and women, hospital officials pointed out because of successful work done by clinic doctors to rehabalitate men and women rejected by the services.

Huge Wool Pool Being Shipped

Thursday's Loading Largest In History Of County Wool Growers Association

WILL COMPLETE GATHERING TODAY

One of the largest shipments of wool ever made by the Lawrence County Wool Growers association is being prepared at the B. and O. freight station here, yesterday's loading of 31,412 pounds being the largest single day's pooling in the history of the local association, it is believed.

On Wednesday, 26,600 pounds was graded, loaded and shipped from Boyle to the purchaser, Draper and Company, of Boston. Thursday's ingathering came from members of the association in Beaver county and North Beaver township, and today's ingathering comes from the balance of the county and any others who missed getting in to the B. and O. station on the preceding days.

Assisting J. L. Burton, president of the association with the grading work today, was past president R. P. Peebles and H. R. McCullouch, of State College, former county agent here. W. B. Connell, sheep and wool expert, of State College, aided with the work here on Thursday. County Agent Lewis C. Dayton, and a group of members of the association are also aiding.

Last year a total of around 80,000 pounds was gathered here, and the total for the two days of Wednesday and Thursday was 58,012 pounds. It is expected that between 20,000 and 25,000 pounds will be brought in today, which will result in last year's figure being equalled or exceeded.

Church Sodality Picnic Event Held

First Outing Of Year Held At Beach By St. Joseph's Sodality Group

Young Ladies' Sodality members of St. Joseph's church hiked out to the All-American beach Thursday evening for their annual summer picnic event.

Swimming and dancing were enjoyed by the girls, and following a delicious basket picnic was served.

New candidates were initiated later and a cake was presented honoring the new girls.

Quite a few attended this first outing of the year, and additional events will be planned for the summer months. Last evening's outing was in charge of the sodality officers.

On July 4, the group will receive holy communion in a body at the 8 o'clock mass. July 16 is the regular meeting.

Industrial Dinner Planned By C. Of C.

Many Other Matters Before Directors At Quarterly Meeting On Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, June 25.—President A. E. Conner conducted the board of directors meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night in the chamber rooms.

It was decided to go ahead with the industrial dinner which has been an annual affair for the past eight years, and an outstanding, nationally known speaker will be secured.

Secretary R. J. Schill reported on progress being made on Koppel Toll bridge with State Highway Dept. and that negotiations for a price on the bridge are now being made with the owners of the Ellwood-Koppel bridge. A. E. Conner, chairman of the Good Roads committee informed the board that Mr. Schroyer, secretary of highways was very receptive to the straightening out of the bad curves in the Ellwood-Wampum road.

C. W. Carbeau, chairman of the committee for the formation of a Manufacturers Division of the Chamber of Commerce made his report and findings and it was unanimously approved by the board that the division be formed.

A lengthy discussion was held on post-war planning for Ellwood City and within the next few days President Conner will appoint a chairman and committee of ten men to handle the planning work. J. W. Offutt, chairman of the new Emergency Hospital Building committee reported that progress on the new hospital is progressing very rapidly and that in six months time it should be completed.

The Infantile Paralysis committee report on having a local nurse versed in the Sister Kenny treatment so that the early stages of the disease can be reached and paralysis in a great many cases prevented.

It was revealed that a party from the northern section of the state was making a survey of the community as to the need of another hotel.

TO INSPECT PROJECT

City Engineer John G. Street reported this morning that this afternoon he would visit Cascade park to inspect the pipe line being laid to Cascade park bathing pool. It is hoped to have the pool open as soon as possible.

Bok Is Slated As Candidate

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Judge Curtis Bok, eminent Philadelphia jurist and descendant of one of America's foremost families, was slated today as Democratic candidate for the superior court in the November election.

The Democratic state committee will give Bok its formal endorsement at the convention in Harrisburg tomorrow, Joseph P. McLaughlin, director of publicity for the Democratic city committee of Philadelphia, said today.

He added that Judge Bok, who consented the candidacy last night, is expected to receive the committee's unanimous support.

Jailed Rioters To Be Questioned By Psychiatrists Now

DETROIT, June 25—Rioters locked in city jails will be questioned by trained psychiatrists on orders of Gov. Harry Kelly, who is anxious to learn the cause of social maladjustments which result in widespread disorder, it was disclosed today.

"We hope not only to determine the causes of the recent riots," Kelly said, "but to gather information which will be useful in eliminating the causes of juvenile delinquency and other social maladjustments."

A standard questionnaire will be circulated among the prisoners.

Officials May Go To State Capital On Street Problem

City officials believe that within the next week or two it is possible they may go to Harrisburg to learn whether or not the State Highway department will be able to help alleviate the bad condition of some of the state highway continuations here.

While none would speak openly, they apparently are optimistic and believe that the visit here recently of State Highway Commissioners John U. Schroyer may prove beneficial.

It is anticipated that within that period a report will have been transmitted by the Pittsburgh district office of the State Highway department to Harrisburg concerning the findings of a maintenance engineer who made a survey of conditions here.

ON HUNGER STRIKE

(International News Service)

PLYMOUTH, N. H., June 25.—Protesting against "forced labor" for the conscientious objectors at the West Campton camp, Corbett Bishop today was on his third hunger strike.

Bishop, a bookseller from West New York, N. J., fasted 21 days last winter for Mahatma Gandhi and India. With him on his current hunger strike during the past 48 hours was Myron Marks of the Pittsburgh Society of Friends (Quakers).

Cloves once were sold at more than their weight in gold.

Babson Sees Changes In Banking Policies

By ROGER W. BABSON

(Copyright, 1943, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

NEW YORK CITY, June 25.—Inflation is witnessed by rising prices and an increased shortage of consumers goods. We have been in an inflationary period for some time. Signs point to further inflation. Inflation will affect all types of business and all individuals in varying degrees. In thinking, however, of one business with which nearly all of us are connected, I have felt that some explanation of what inflation might mean to the banks would be of interest to all. Hence, today I will hit some of the high-spots in the banking picture.

BABSON

Banks Deal In Dollars

I am more concerned with the smaller banks than I am with the larger financial institutions of our great cities. Our large commercial institutions will benefit from any increase in money rates although these may be some time in rising. Of course, the entire banking business has changed vastly since I was a young man. Today there is little glory or profit in being a bank director or even in being a stockholder.

Banks have no inventory, buy no raw materials and manufacture no finished products. They have nothing to sell except service and, most of all, they deal solely in dollars. Hence, theoretically, it makes no difference to the bank what the dollar is worth. It is worth 59 cents today; but if it goes down to 20 cents the banks would still be open, would function as usual, continue to receive dollar deposits and pay out dollars.

Depositors Are Safe

As all Federal Reserve member banks and most other banks are also members of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, deposits up to $5000 have, for some time, been insured by our government. Depositors are thus well-protected and bank failures for years have been at a minimum. I look for no increase in bank failures. However, some banks may consolidate or liquidate and go out of business. In some instances this would be a sensible thing for them to do. The larger a bank is the more valuable its stock should be.

Bank customers will continue to receive much of the same type of service as they have always had from their banks, but they must expect to pay more and more for it. Banks will be obliged to meet increased living and operating expenses occasioned by inflation just as manufacturers and other business houses will be. They are faced with declining mortgage income; their returns on commercial paper, municipals and corporation bonds are also extremely low. It looks as though they might be largely dependent upon their service charges and safe deposit box rentals.

Investment Policies For Banks

The banking fraternity is today carrying too much of the government debt in the form of bonds. There should be proportionately more in the hands of the public than in the hands of the banks. However, while the rate of interest on government holdings is extremely small, banks can be certain that their holdings of governments—particularly those due within the next ten years—will be paid at par upon maturity. Furthermore, I do not look for any extreme fluctuations in their prices immediately after the war as was true of the Liberty Bonds of World War I.

Unlike individual investors or businessmen, banks cannot protect themselves against inflation through the purchase of tangible goods and property. Yet, like merchandizing groups, they must have an inventory with which to do business. Therefore, inasmuch as they deal in dollars, they must have a large store of dollars on hand.

Dollars To Be Plentiful

Forward-looking bankers, therefore, will gradually depend less on normal investment income and educate the depositors to heavier service charges. These will be permitted by the government, even looked upon with favor. Unless Washington wishes to take over the actual operation of the banks, they must make it possible for banks to have sufficient income from sources other than through normal investments.

As mortgages are paid off in cheap dollars, income from this source will also decline. But dollars will be exceedingly plentiful. Money in circulation per capita today is the highest in the history of our country. It will continue to rise. For every government bond sold our credit resources are multiplied six or seven times. I forecast that dollars will be far more plentiful than certain commodities.

What About Bank Stocks

What I have outlined is far from an ideal domestic banking economy. It is no real way for banks to function, but it is the only way they can survive. But I would not dump my bank stocks. They may be as good as anything else to hold. In some ways perhaps a little better in the case of the larger banks. At least their real estate constitutes real property. But I would not be surprised to see many banking quarters turned into funeral parlors!

Davies Interprets Curfew Ordinance

Persons 17 Not Affected, But Those Under 17 Are Concerned

D. O. Davies, director of public safety, today stated that the curfew ordinance provides that persons who are not yet 17 years of age are required to be out of public places and off public streets at 11 p. m. but the ordinance does not apply to those persons who already have reached their 17th birthday. The impression heretofore has been that persons who already had reached their 17th birthday but not their 18th were affected.

When the ordinance was first broached various ages were discussed and now that the ordinance has been printed and a copy given to city police to enforce, the measure says "under 17 years of age".

Following his graduation from Westminster college he obtained his master's degree from the University of Colorado, and before receiving his commission was employed as a chemist by the government. Captain Moore has been stationed at Cincinnati, O.

TRACES YELLOW FEVER TO CEMETERY VASES

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Lt. Harvey Ludwig, in charge of the New Orleans mosquito control unit, is seeking to remove what he terms "the city's worst breeding place for yellow fever".

Charging that thousands of unattended flower vases in cemeteries provide such breeding places, he announced he would place water tight boxes around cemeteries near sources of water used in filling vases. The boxes will contain small bits of phenothiazine paper, which, included in each vase containing water, will prevent mosquito breeding but will not injure flowers or color the water, he explained.

WOUNDED SERVICE MEN TAUGHT HAND CRAFTS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25—Sailors and marines at the Oak Knoll hospital in Oakland, Cal., can still send their best girl a charm bracelet, or a bit of weaving to their mothers. And some of the boys will be making their own gifts.

This is a result of the opening of the Craft Shop, where recuperating men able to be out will find recreation under Red Cross supervision. The "Grey Ladies," who have been on duty since the hospital opened, also will conduct hand craft programs in the wards.

The shop, which was the caddy house in the days when Oak Knoll was a country club, was offered by the Navy to the Red Cross.

Aerial Offensive In Second Phase Of Bombing Plan

Strategic Program To Pave Way For Major Allied Invasion Is Seen

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Anglo-American aerial offensive against Germany today is believed to be entering the second phase of a four-point strategic bombing plan designed to pave the way for a major Allied invasion of the European continent this Fall or next Spring.

The strategic bombing plan is intended to save the lives of hundreds of thousands of American and other Allied soldiers by softening up Germany through air power before a full-scale land invasion attempt is made.

The American and British air chiefs are staking their reputations on the ability of air power to cripple Germany's war machine in advance of the opening of a second land front in Western Europe.

Diplomatic observers in Washington are now convinced that the air chiefs have succeeded in persuading the Anglo- American high command to let them have the summer months for their experiment before risking heavy casualties in a major land assault on Hitler's European fortress.

Precision, Saturation Raids

The Anglo-American strategic bombing plan is based on daylight precision bombing by American Flying Fortresses and Liberators, and night "saturation" raids by hundreds of British heavy bombers.

The American method is to strike at the most vital parts of Germany's war machine, hitting specific targets such as power plants, machine shops and oil refineries. The British method is to blanket German war production centers with high explosives, demoralizing the civilian population as well as wrecking the factories.

Hit Air Power, Industry

First phase of the strategic bombing plan involved comparatively short flights by the American planes aimed at crippling German air power by attacks on aircraft plants, airfields and enemy planes.

The Flying Fortresses' initial attack on the Ruhr industrial area Tuesday is believed to have marked the beginning of the second phase of the plan, which calls for deeper penetration into German territory to attack the heavier industries.

Final Collapse Stages

The third phases involves the precision destruction of the heart of Germany's war production. It is during this period of the aerial offensive that the American and British air chiefs believe the first signs of collapse will begin to appear on the German front lines. This phase is expected to be reached in Germany by Autumn when the strength of the raids will be three to four times as great as at present.

Final stage of the strategic bombing plan is the preliminary to actual invasion. It involves a clean-up process, with destruction of German communication lines, new Nazi airfields and other key centers.

U. S. Casualties Now Total 90,860

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—American casualties since the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor were revealed Thursday to total 90,860.

Secretary of War Stimson announced that U.S. army losses in killed, wounded and captured for the war now total 63,985.

The remaining 26,875 casualties were in the navy, marine corps and coast guard.

CHINESE STUDENTS TO AID WAR EFFORT

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 25—Thousands of young Chinese men and women attending China's colleges-in-exile have volunteered to devote their entire summer vacation aiding their nation's war effort on both the home and fighting fronts, United China Relief reports.

Large numbers will be sent to the Ichang and Lake Tunting fronts to serve as nurses and doctor's assistants. Their work will consist chiefly of caring for the wounded in transit from front lines back to base hospitals.

Almost 100 English-language students will join the American forces in China as interpreters, while students with technical training will enter the Chinese Industrial Cooperatives for the summer to give workmen-apprentices the benefit of their useful knowledge. Agricultural students will teach Chinese farmers new scientific methods.

HOMESICK SOLDIER MAKES PHONE CALL

(International News Service)

CAMP CARSON, Colo.—Anxiety to talk to his relatives in St. Louis cost Pvt. Willie Wilson, a negro soldier a trip to jail.

Willie entered a grocery store in Colorado Springs and asked to use a telephone. The proprietor, who was unaware of Willie's long distance intentions, gave his permission.

But the proprietor soon discovered that Wilson had made a $9.71 call. Willie was arrested, but agreed to pay the grocer for the call and the chief of police felt sorry for him and released him.

Willie said he wouldn't do it again.

RIDE TO GRADUATION COSTS GAS RATIONS

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., June 25.—A ride in his automobile to graduation exercises at Coughlin High school cost William Davis his gasoline ration rights until July 21.

Davis drove to the school with three other boys and girls and he was cited by OPA investigators for unnecessary driving.

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—The 50th anniversary of the installation of the first electrically operated semaphore signal in the world, an invention that revolutionized railroading, has just been celebrated.

The pioneer equipment, first used on the Jersey Central line of the Reading company, just outside of Phillipsburg, N. J., was the invention of J. W. Lattig, 89, now living in retirement at Bethlehem, Pa.

KITES NOW VERBOTEN IN OCCUPIED HOLLAND

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 25—Germans have become apprehensive over another activity of the Dutch—kite flying. They have forbidden the flying of any kites throughout the occupied land, possibly fearing that they might be used as signals to Allied fliers or troops.

For centuries the boys and girls of the Netherlands—where the wind is always continuous—have been enthusistic kite fliers, especially in the spring and summertime.

Miss Lafferty Resigns Post At Mercer High

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, June 25.—Miss Mary Lafferty, daughter of Mrs. Eleanor Lafferty, West Neshannock avenue, and head of the French and English departments at Mercer high school for the past two years, resigned her faculty position to become a hospital recreation worker for the Red Cross.

Miss Lafferty is a graduate of Westminster college. After obtaining her Master's degree at Oberlin college, she took another year of graduate work in Switzerland.

She left yesterday for Washington, D. C., for a two-weeks training course after which she will be assigned to a field or general hospital.

'Pay-As-You-Go' Tax Facts Given

Questions and answers below explain the provisions of the current tax payment act of 1943, and are prepared by the treasury department in Washington.

Q. Is the withholding tax an additional income tax?

A. No. The withholding tax is an installment or pay-as-you-go method of paying your regular annual income tax.

Q. Does this new tax mean people will not have to pay out money for income tax on next March 15th, 1944?

A. Yes, in case the amount of tax withheld from wage payment equals or exceeds the amount of income tax liability reported on the annual return.

Q. Does this mean that I won't have to make out an income tax report next March.

A. No. You will be required to file a return on the usual form.

Q. Are there any kinds of workers who are exempt from withholding?

A. Yes, for certain specified classes which include members of the armed forces, agricultural labor, domestic servants, and ministers of the gospel.

Q. How about people with big wages? Are they going to get by with only a 20 per cent tax?

A. No. They also have to make quarterly payments of tax in addition to the amounts withheld.

Q. How about salaries, bonuses and commissions? Is withholding required?

A. Yes, since "wages" means all remuneration for services by an employee.

Q. How about people with income from stocks, bonds, mortgages, etc.? Who withholds from them?

A. There is no withholding on income from bonds, mortgages, etc., but those receiving such income must make a special return and pay the tax quarterly on such income.

Q. I am paying all I can over and above living expenses now in purchase of War Bonds. How can I keep up these payments and pay the withholding tax?

A. I'm sure that you have been setting aside a part of your pay to meet quarterly installments of your income tax. The withholding tax is merely a "pay-as-you-go" or installment-method of paying your income tax, instead of in a lump sum. It should make it easier for you to buy additional War Bonds.

DOG ADOPTS KITTEN AT MILITARY POST

(International News Service)

CAMP BOWIE, Tex., June 25 — The mascot of the 215th military police at Camp Bowie is disproving an old axiom for the boys. In fact, "Lady," has adopted a kitten and is raising it along with her own litter of puppies to prove that cats and dogs can mix.

When her young puppies were only a few days old, Lady disappeared for a time and the men wondered if she had deserted. But she soon returned with a small kitten in her mouth and, according to the soldiers, she isn't showing any favoritism between it and her own young.

Spring Hill Will Unveil Honor Roll

Elaborate Program Will Take Place On High Street, Sunday Evening

CAPT. HAGUE TO BE SPEAKER

All arrangements for the dedication of the honor roll to more than 125 men who have gone into the service from the Spring Hill section, have been completed, Chairman James Million announced today. The program will take place at 8:15 o'clock Sunday evening.

The main speaker will be Capt. William W. Hague, of the Shenango Personnel Replacement Depot, at Transfer, Pa. Others who will be guests on the occasion will be Commander Frank T. Sargent, of Neshannock Post, No. 315, V. F. W.; Commander Fred C. Duff, of Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion; and George Thompson, Commander of Harry L. McBride Post, V. F. W.; L. B. Round, executive director of the O. C. D. for Lawrence county; D. O. Davies, chief of the O. C. D. for New Castle; George Gettings, Sheriff Clyde Badger, James M. Smith, Jr., of Shenango Pottery; Henry Matiste, of the Universal Sanitary Pottery, and the local recruiting officers.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Senior high school band, directed by Joe F. Replogle.

The honor roll will be one of the most unique and substantial yet placed in the city. The names, which will be placed inside a case, will be burned upon tile, and will be virtually everlasting.

The program will be broadcast, Chairman Million announces, so that those unable to attend in person can hear it.

Naval Commander Cited For Bombing Of Two Jap Subs

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Two letters of commendation from Secretary of the Navy Knox revealed today that Commander William R. Smedberg, III, probably destroyed two Japanese submarines somewhere in the Pacific.

The letters to Smedberg said the two attacks occurred within 10 days some time last summer.

"On each occasion, after the presence of a submerged enemy submarine had been detected, Commander Smedberg drove his vessel (a destroyer) in and promptly dropped patterns of depth charges," the Navy said. "After the charges had exploded, great quantities of oil and air bubbles rose to the surface."

The 40-year-old commander lives in Arlington, Va.

City Food Prices Low, Compared To Current Pay Rolls

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Sen. Clyde Reed (R) Kan., declared in the Senate today that city people are getting their food cheaper in relation to their earnings than they have for years.

Assailing the administration program of paying subsidies in order to hold the line on food prices, he charged that the farmers have been misrepresented and falsely pictured as "greedy" in demanding increases in prices.

Reed said that government figures show that factory pay roll checks for each worker in April almost doubled the amount paid them during a period from 1935 to 1939. But, he added, the cost of living had risen only 24.1 per cent.

Blood Donors Now Total 668

Many Additional Volunteers For Donations Are Being Reported

On Thursday 177 blood donors were received at the Red Cross Blood Donor Center in New Castle where the mobile unit is set up this week and next week in the First Presbyterian church. This brings the total number of donors for the first four days of the stay of the mobile unit of the Blood Donor Service to 668.

So overwhelming has been the request for appointments at the local Red Cross chapter house that with a capacity schedule already filled, it is apparent that some people who are anxious to be donors may not be called for an appointment.

Only in cases of cancellations will those on the waiting list be called and it will not be possible to call everyone, it was announced today. So many requests from people who have asked to be called in cases of cancellations have been received at the chapter house during the week that there is a file of over 300 applications for appointments.

Pleasure at the splendid turnout of the community to aid the Red Cross blood plasma work was expressed today by those in charge of the Blood Donor Service here.

William Wilson received the silver button of a third time Red Cross blood donor on Thursday.

Hostess committee in charge for the day was Mrs. Eliah Kaplan, Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, Mrs. Gordon Stone, Mrs. George Kline, and Miss Ether Levine.

Hospital Nurses Aides who have served at the center during the week are: Mrs. H. E. Rappold, Mrs. Harry McClintock, Mrs. G. A. Phillips, Mrs. Thomas Elliott, Mrs. F. Colla, Mrs. Betty Sanfilippo, Miss Ruth Lewis, Mrs. J. F. Rentz, Miss Ann Brinko, Miss Rose Uhl, Miss J. Jenkins, Miss M. O'Connell, Mrs. A. Palmer and Miss Ruth Sample.

Margaret Henry Home Reunions Are Out For Duration

Due to a large number of the children reared in the local Margaret Henry Home, serving Uncle Sam in active duty, and also due to transportation restrictions, the annual reunion planned for Sunday, July 18 at the Margaret Henry Home has been cancelled, and all others likewise, for the duration of the war.

It had been the annual custom of making an all day affair out of the reunions, with a dinner being served To date, thirty-two children reared in the Home are known to be serving in the U. S. armed forces. However, after the war, the usual schedule will be resumed, and a gala reunion of those returning, will launch the annual reunion program.

Spanish War Vets To Hear Reports

Delegates To State Convention Will Give Reports Saturday Evening

At the next meeting of Col. Daniel Leasure camp, United Spanish War Veterans, which will take place in the Legion Home Saturday evening, June 26, reports will be heard from those who attended the department convention at Butler.

Plans will be made at this time to attend the national convention, being held in Boston, in August. As this will probably be the last Saturday meeting for the summer, Commander H. J. Scott would like to have a full turnout.

FUNERAL SATURDAY FOR JOHN G. HEIDISH

John G. Heidish, aged 67, Albun street, Pittsburgh, died Wednesday evening in West Penn hospital after a month's illness. Funeral services are to be held Saturday at 2.30 p. m., in Pittsburgh, with burial in St. Peter's cemetery.

Mr. Heidish leaves a brother, Charles, Wilmington road, one niece and several nephews in this city. He is also survived by a son and two grandchildren. His wife, to whom he was married 41 years, was the former Mabel Griffiths, and died three years ago.

A lifetime resident of Pittsburgh, Mr. Heidish was a son of George and Elizabeth Leggitt Heidish. He was a member of St. John's Lutheran church, Pittsburgh, and taught the young men's Bible class.

CITIZENS OF JUNIOR REPUBLIC WORKING TO EASE FARM SHORTAGE

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, June 25.—Citizens of the George Junior Republic are being placed on nearby farms to relieve the help shortage, through the efforts of the local Commercial club. Transportation is provided the boys by club members and the service is in great demand at this season, with 10 to 15 boys working steadily. The demand is expected to increase at the harvest season.

WORLD POLICE FORCE IS URGED

Former V.F.W. State Commander Advocates Organization For After War Peace Enforcing

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 25—A world police organization to enforce a permanent peace was advocated today by Robert A. Woodside, former state commander of the veterans of foreign wars.

Addressing the opening session of the VFW convention here, Woodside declared:

"We see now the fallacy of our indifference toward own safety when we refused to heed the pleas of war veterans who learned by bitter experience."

Woodside recalled that young officers in occupied Germany after the Armistice urged the United States to enter into an alliance with the western powers to insure a peaceful Germany.

"But we engaged in wishful thinking" the former VFW head said. "What we need now is a worldwide police group to enforce the mandates of any organization established after this war to assure a durable peace.

The opening meeting of the veterans was marked by a lack of the usual fanfare and hilarity. The members gathered in groups to hear leaders of the state discuss the civilian effort in the war.

'TIRED' FISHING BOAT BEACHES HERSELF

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, June 25—The fourman crew of the halibut schooner Nootka Sound snored contentedly in their bunks.

On deck Capt. Joseph Guthro of Vancouver, B. C., stood at the wheel. But is was very early in the morning and soon he, too, slumbered.

The Nootka Sound was tired, too, so she rammed completely through the pier of the Puget Sound Naval Academy on Bainbridge Island and beached herself.

Although the pier was damaged the boat and crew were not even scratched.

When a U. S. Navy man is "feeling rhino," he is sad, blue, discouraged and broke.

ARNOLD DISCLOSES 66,000 AMERICAN MEN IN AIR DAILY

General Arnold Reveals Scope Of Air Operations; 1,600 Planes Fly Every Day

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Sixty-six thousand American airmen take to the skies every day throughout the world, Gen. H. H. Arnold, commander of the Army Air Forces told the House Civil Service committee Thursday in picturing the growing scope of operations under his command.

Explaining the need for a large number of civilian workers in the air forces, Gen. Arnold disclosed that the flow of bombers to Britain alone means that "we will need 12,000 additional civilians in England immediately."

Arnold added that 1,600 planes are "flown everywhere daily—mostly to foreign service."

Between June 30 and next December 31, Arnold said, the number of planes serviced by air forces personnel in the United States will increase more than one-third with "further increases in 1944."

The headquarters Army Air Forces, as of May 31 had 3,579 civilian employes while there are now approximately 330,000 civilian employes in the air forces field service, the general added.

"I recognize the obligation to establish sound personnel policies for such a quickly developing organization as a responsibility of command," he told the committee.

"However, the prime national necessity for quantity, equality, speed and more speed to defeat the Axis powers has been the paramount consideration. We have struck against the enemy first—but we have also moved continually toward a more effective civilian organization."

Claire Booth Luce Proposes Alliance With Great Britain

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Rep. Claire Booth Luce, (R) of Conn., Thursday proposed in the house that the United States form a "strong military alliance, or non-aggression pact with Great Britain and the self-governing members of the British commonwealth" as the basis for a new American foreign policy.

Mrs. Luce, who several months ago attacked what she called the administration "globaloney" policies, said:

"I submit that in this epoch of history, collective security is meaningless without firm and clearly established military, as well as economic and spiritual, collaboration of the United States and the commonwealth."

She endorsed the pending fulbright resolution which would place congress on record as favoring the creation of "appropriate international machinery" for the establishment and "maintenance" of peace.

British Subs Sink 13 More Axis Ships

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 25.—British submarines operating in the Mediterranean have sunk 13 more Axis vessels, including an armed merchant cruiser of 7,000 tons, the admiralty announced Thursday.

Vessels sent to the bottom, in addition to the merchant cruiser, included two naval auxiliaries, two medium supply vessels and eight small-sized supply ships, the communique revealed.

Passenger Train Hits Army Plane

(International News Service)

SOUTHBORO, Mass., June 25.—A passenger train was derailed Thursday when it struck an army fighter plane which landed on the tracks following a midair collision with another army plane.

Preliminary reports said no passengers nor crew members in the train were injured but the fate of both pilots was not known.

Military authorities have been dispatched to the scene to investigate the accident.

VACATION AT HOME IS SAFER, ANYHOW

Silver Lining Department Points Out Perils Of Travelling Vacationists

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., June 25.—Vacationists, driven this summer to their front porches and victory gardens by the gasoline shortage and non-essential travel embargo, should not voice bitterness at the situation, according to New Jersey health officials.

The New Jersey Department of Health recently reported the "stay-at-homes" will be safer than those people who usually vacation in backwoods places where bad water, unpasteurized milk, unscreened cottages, and unburied sewage and garbage are encountered.

The department asserted that all vacationists, regardless of where they travel, should be vaccinated against smallpox and immunized against diphtheria to insure health.

Further precautionary measures to be adhered to, the department said, include the boiling of water for five minutes after adding two drops of a common bleaching solution to every gallon; avoiding contact with poison oak, poison Ivy, and other poisonous plants; examination for ticks at least once a day; getting the proper amount of rest; abstaining from over-indulgence in food, drink and exercise and avoiding too much exposure to the sun.

STIMSON SILENT ON RICKENBACKER TRIP

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Secretary of War Stimson Thursday declined to comment on Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker's air inspection tour in Russia.

The secretary declared at his news conference that the noted airman is serving "at my own request" in inspecting American air equipment in Russia, but added:

"Since Capt. Rickenbacker's present trip is concerned solely with technical air inspection, I prefer not to comment."

PAYROLL INCREASES PUT UP TO PRESIDENT

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 25 — A payroll increase of $2,948,500 annually for Reading Railroad company employes will go into effect if President Roosevelt approves the findings of the emergency board of the National Railway Labor panel.

The annual increase for the Central Railroad of New Jersey would be $1,785,000, according to E. W. Sheer, head of both railroads.

COST OF LIVING FORMULA MAY BE ADJUSTED

Report WLB Discusses Possible Changes In "Little Steel" Formula

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The War Labor Board, it was learned today, has discussed in executive session the possibility of adjusting the "Little Steel" cost of living formula upward, if the price rollback program is not successful.

The full board met on the problem for several hours and discussed the unrest among labor unions caused by the rising cost of living, and the congressional uprising against the subsidy plan.

Disclosure that the board was discussing the living cost problem came as CIO representatives prepared to meet with a group of congressmen and ask that either the subsidy program be given full support or the "Little Steel" wage formula brought to a realistic figure approximating the 25 percent rise in living costs since 1941. The formula holds wages increases to 15 percent of the January 1941 levels.

Also entering the picture were the claims of food industry officials that efforts of the administration to roll back the cost of living to the September 15, 1942 level had eliminated profits from industry.

The officials assailed President Roosevelt's "hold the line order" and demanded an increase in prices to restore profits of distributors. They said that 40,000 retail stores have closed in the past three or four months with "no replacements."

The War Labor Board in discussing the problem considered the many facts of the cost of living situation with the realization that any change in the Little Steel formula would mean a flood of applications demanding reconsideration of wage cases, including John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

Indications that the board has had the upward revisal in mind for several months were apparent in many of the late wage increase denials.

For instance, the mine workers wage denial was amended with the statement that should the board's cost of living figure change, the union could apply for the higher adjustment.

Several Are Fined In Mayor Mayne's Court

Hot Weather May Have Played Role In Fomenting Trouble

Hot weather of last night possibly had something to do with making hot blood run somewhat faster and as a result there are several persons who were in police court today. Harry and Ray Myers, no address, but brothers, who got into a fight in Long avenue were each fined $10.

Harry was ordered also to pay for a shirt which he damaged when he kicked and punched Carl Lockard, arresting policeman, who the police report asserted used force to subdue him.

F. A. Reimer, Hemlock street, reportedly blew his horn at 4:35 a. m. to the annoyance of West North street residents. He was charged with disorderly conduct and was fined $25.

One other defendant who gave the name of "Bill McClafferty" was charged with disorderly conduct at the Lawrence confectionery where he committed damage. He was fined $10 and ordered to pay for repairs to equipment.

WASP CUTS GAS FROM VILLAGE

NEWARK, O., June 25.—A common wasp deprived the village of Jacksontown, south of here, of fuel and illumination according to the statement of the efficiency crew of the Ohio Fuel Gas company.

They say the wasp crawled into the regulator box, located a mile west of Jacksontown on route 40, built a mud nest that caused the delicate valve to close and shut off the natural gas. It required an all night search to locate the trouble.

Duke And Duchess Continue Visit To United States

(International News Service)

PALM BEACH, Fla., June 25.—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor continued their extended visit to the United States today at the Palm Beach home of Herbert Pulitzer.

The couple arrived in West Palm Beach late yesterday and went immediately to the Pulitzer home.

The 49-year-old former king of England and present governor of the Bahamas said he had not determined yet when he and the Duchess would return to Nassau.

While in Palm Beach, he said he planned to make a trip to the Florida Everglades farming area to visit Bahaman laborers who were imported from Nassau to aid in harvesting American crops. Most of the laborers, however, already have been sent north.

BREATHING TUBE ACTS AS GAS MASK

(International News Service)

CORVALLIS, Ore., June 25.—A breathing tube intended to protect persons against gas for a short time, even though gas masks are unavailable, has been invented by Lieut. Col. William E. Caldwell of the chemical warfare school, according to information received at Oregon State college.

Colonel Caldwell, who is on leave from the O.S.C. chemistry staff, believes the device can be used by civilians in peace time as temporary protection from acid fumes and in fire-fighting.

War Casualties Are Analyzed

Secretary Stimson's Report Is Discussed By Major Paul C. Raborg

(Editor's Note — Secretary of War Stimson's report to total army casualties to date is discussed in the following article by Major Paul C. Raborg, noted military analyst and author of "Mechanized Might.")

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
Written Especially For International News Service

NEW YORK, June 25—Secretary of War Stimson stated, in his report of total army casualties to date—63,958—that we must be forewarned that further operations of the armed forces will be on a much greater scale, and casualties therefore heavier. That in itself is a revelation that the offensive operations now being planned will be larger than anything which has heretofore occurred, and our North African operations were not small.

An analysis of the breakdown of casualties for both the army and navy presents many interesting facts. The killed in the army—7,528, is almost exactly even with killed in the navy, which is 7,604. There have been almost four times as many army men wounded—17,128, as there were in the navy—4,732. The rate of killed to wounded in the army as against the navy is markedly different. The land forces had better than two men wounded for every man killed. The sea arm had almost two men killed for every man wounded. This might indicate that naval battles are more deadly than army conflict.

Removing Philippine Reports

If the Philippine casualties are removed from the total lists of the land forces, it develops that the number captured do not vary greatly—5,963 for the army and 3,556 for the navy. And still eliminating the losses on Bataan and Corregidor, we find that the navy with 11,010 missing is almost three times as great as the army with 4,748. The high naval figure is probably because of ships sunk, in which case the missing are usually dead.

In the North Arican campaign, in particular Tunisia, 2,574 men were killed, 9,437 were wounded. The ratio is better than three times as many wounded as killed. In this same operation, 1,620 are reported missing, and 5,107 are said to be prisoners, which shows approximately the same number killed, missing, and prisoners, as were wounded. This produces the interesting fact that, eliminating prisoners taken in the Philippines and in Tunisia, the army has only a total of 856 captured.

The total loss in the Philippine campaign is listed at 36,610 men. That only includes Americans and native Philippine Scouts—which were United States federal troops. Unlisted are perhaps a hundred thousand Filipinos who were members of the Commonwealth army and the Philippine Constabulary. These were the armed forces of the Philippine Commonwealth. Little has ever been said or written as to their fate. Without doubt many discarded their uniforms and escaped. But it is difficult to forget the Japanese threat that all natives in uniform would be executed. Considerable portions of the Philippine army were largely untrained.

Long Time Between Wash Days Decreed

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 25 — One bundle of wash every three weeks per customer was the self-imposed program being followed by many Philadelphia district laundries today.

Irving M. Morris, director of the mutual laundry owners' association, said the move was made necessary because of the scarcity of labor and the inexperience of the labor which was available.

Deliveries to hotels are being cut from once a day to once a week, Morris said, and drastic curtailments are also being made in deliveries to army camps and war plants.

DENVER POLICE HUNT NONCHALANT PIG THIEF

(International News Service)

DENVER, June 25—As the result of meat rationing a pig thief is on the loose in Denver. Quite an amazing fellow, he nonchalantly enters suburban pig pens, scoops up 100 to 150 pounds of squealing pig and walks away, police reported.

Thefts of chickens, rabbits and pigeons has increased tremendously since meat rationing police said, but pig stealing is something new.

Epworth Church Has Conference

Dr. William E. Bartlett presided at the fourth quarterly conference at Epworth Methodist church on a recent evening. Reports from all societies and departments of the church and church school showed a commendable progress in all directions.

The organization of the church was set up for the ensuing conference year with most of the personnel which had proved so efficient being retained in office. Rev. William A. Thornton reported on his work as the minister of the church for the past four years and commended those it had been his privilege to serve for their fine cooperation and support which had made possible, among other things, a debt reduction during the period of his pastorate of $21,183 in addition to a number of improvements which had put the church property in most excellent condition.

At the meeting of the official board, preceding the conference, it was decided to observe the church anniversary on Sunday, July 11, and as far as possible make a homecoming day of this date.

Brooklyn Youth, 23, Is Veteran Of Six Branches Of Service

Now A Recruit At New Cumberland Center, Wants To Join Paratroops

(International News Service)

NEW CUMBERLAND, Pa., June 25—Pvt. Warren J. Walton, of Brooklyn, a new recruit at the New Cumberland Army Reception Center, is only 23 years old, but he's a veteran at serving Uncle Sam.

Before his induction in the army, Walton served as:

1. A private in the National Guard.
2. A civilian employe for the navy.
3. A member of the C. C. C.
4. A second class seaman in the Coast Guard.
5. A sergeant in the Army.
6. A first class seaman in the Merchant Marine.

He entered the National Guard at 15 after lying about his age. When his enlistment was up he went to C. C. C. camp and after his discharge enlisted in the army.

Walton served for more than three years with the 62nd Coast Artillery at Fort Totten and with the 1st and 72nd Seacoast Artillery in Panama, reaching the rank of sergeant. His next job was with the navy as a civilian operating engineer.

He then enlisted in the Coast Guard as a second class seaman and saw service in the South Atlantic, the Pacific, the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean. Next he tried the Merchant Marine and then volunteered for army service.

Still seeking action, the Brooklyn boy declares: "The paratroops, that's where I want to go."

Early Inspection Of Cars Necessary

Shortage Of Skilled Mechanics Makes Delay In Auto Inspection Undesirable

Theoretically, midnight, July 31, still is the official dead line for motor vehicle inspections in the current period. But, for all practical purposes, wartime conditions have been advancing that dead line rapidly and inexorably until one guess is as good as another regarding the length of time over which you can safely defer the spring-summer inspection without losing the use of your car for several weeks.

If you are one of the many Pennsylvania motorists who are starting July without having had your car given a thorough rechecking and adjustment at an official inspection station, the only sensible thing is to see that you remedy the oversight at once. Even back in the balmy days that preceded Pearl Harbor, a certain element of risk was involved in putting the semi-annual inspection off until the inevitable last minute rush placed long ques of automobiles in front of the more popular official inspection stations. And that was in the almost-forgotten era when skilled mechanics and trained automobile repairmen were plentiful.

Today, thousands of former Pennsylvania automobile mechanics are serving in the armed forces of the country or are working in war industries outside the transportation field. The average garage is undermanned, even by policies and standards of the present emergency, and virtually none have forces large enough to take care of a pre-war, last minute rush of motor vehicle inspections. This fact, in itself, should impress you with the absolute necessity for getting your car inspected today or tomorrow. If it doesn't, then consider that the current inspection—and any interim rechecks or overhauling—is invaluable in helping you to safeguard the precious transportation that is contained in your automobile and your present tires.

The sight of a fresh, new official inspection sticker on your windshield should be a comforting reminder that your automobile is perfectly tuned to the nation's war effort and that you can continue to depend upon it for war-essential transportation you cannot obtain so readily in any other way.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR SOLDIERS MUST BE MAILED EARLY

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—With Christmas still six months off, the post office department Thursday issued a "mail early" warning to families of men in the U. S. forces overseas.

To assure Christmas packages reaching sons, husbands and sweethearts in the army abroad in time for the holiday season, the post-office announced that all gifts should be mailed between Sept. 15 and Oct 15.

VOTERS UNCERTAIN ABOUT AFTER WAR JOBS

(International News Service)

DENVER—A divided opinion over the question of "enough jobs after the war" was shown in a recent survey by the National Opinion Research Center at Denver university.

The survey showed that of every three Americans with opinions on the question, one believes there will be enough jobs during the first few years (34 per cent), one thinks there will be some unemployment (32 per cent), and one fears a lot of unemployment (32 per cent).

Those who voted for Roosevelt in 1940 are more optimistic about the possibility of "enough jobs" than are the Willkie voters. Thirty-seven per cent of those who had voted for Roosevelt think there will be enough jobs, the survey stated, while only 27 per cent of 1940 Willkie supporters are optimistic regarding post-war employment.

FORMER DEAN HONORED

NEW WILMINGTON, June 25.—Dean Alex C. Burr, former dean of Westminster college from 1934 to 1938, who for the past few years has been Dean of the Faculty of Jamestown college, has been appointed a member of the newly created North Dakota State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers. The appointment was made by Governor John Moses, and takes effect on July 1.

Map Of City In 1825 Prepared

Neal Williams, employe of the city's engineering department, has prepared a map which shows the borough of New Castle, which was in the county of Mercer in 1825 when the borough was incorporated. It was copied from an old map.

The map shows the north line of the borough was a line 60 feet south of what is now Grant street, and extended from the Shenango river to the Neshannock creek.

In 1849, Lawrence county was formed by taking a part of Beaver county and a part of Mercer county.

SENATOR DEMANDS TROOPS TO HELP AVOID CROP LOSS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Sen. Wiley (R) Wis., demanded in the senate Thursday that the army provide troops to assist in harvesting crops of peas and beans in order to avoid tremendous waste of food.

"Troops are marching around in the camps while canners and farmers beg for labor," Wiley said. "The brass hats in the military forces are in a mental rut and their blindness prevents their seeing how critical the farm labor shortage is."

"STITCH" IN HER SIDE

JEANNETTE, June 25.—An unusual pricking in her side bothered Mrs. Ann Seiler while working in her garden. The pricker turned out to be a sewing needle which she swallowed a year ago last December. It finally worked its way out near her ribs.

NEW DIPLOMATS ARE BEING SENT

State Department Seeking To Strengthen Diplomatic Representations

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The state department today was moving to strengthen American diplomatic representation in Canada, Russia the Near East and New Zealand.

Some of the leading policy-making officials of the state department are being sent to fill the new posts.

Ray Atherton, whose nomination as minister to Canada is now before the senate, has played a prominent part in the recent shaping of American foreign policy.

As chief of the European division of the state department, Atherton helped direct the diplomatic policy which paved the way for the landing of American military forces in French North Africa.

He was held steadfastly to the opinion that one of the chief aims of current American foreign policy is to help resist aggression but not to mix in the internal politics of other countries.

An expert on Far Eastern affairs is being sent to Russia. He is Maxwell Hamilton, chief of the Far Eastern division of the state department, who has been appointed counselor of the American embassy in Moscow.

Roy Henderson, chief of the Russian section, is being sent as minister to Iran; now considered an important listening post in the Near East. Henderson has been accused of being anti-Sovietan but in the opinion of his colleagues he is simply 100 percent American.

A veteran career diplomat, William C. Burdett, has been nominated to succeed Brig-Gen. Patrick Hurley as American minister to New Zealand.

TRAINER PLANE NEVER LEAVES THE GROUND

(International News Service)

GLENDALE, Cal.—June De Nio, Des Moines, Ia., aviatrix, has been emulating the maiden whose mother told her she could "hang her clothes on a hickory limb but don't go near the water."

Miss De Nio has been trying out a new training plane, giving it test flights with banks and turns—without leaving the ground.

The plane is a new pre-flight trainer, a product of the California Aero Glider Corporation designed by Volmer Jensen, Glendale sailplane designer. The craft does everything an airplane might do at just under takeoff speed.

"We believe the new trainer will have a practical use in giving students valuable hours in the feel of airplane controls without risking a $12,000 plane," explained Roy V. Parody, vice-president of the glider company.

'Health Trips' May Be Given Approval

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 25.—A new procedure by which motorists embarking on legitimate "health trips" may be provided with letters of approval from the local O.P.A. before starting out, was revealed here today.

The procedure came to light when Frank C. Russell, district O.P.A. director, announced that permission had been granted to 36 New Yorkers to make motor trips recommended by their physicians.

The written approval, to be shown to inspectors along the road, states that in the opinion of the O.P.A. district medical advisory board the trip "would not be a violation" of the pleasure driving ban. The approval is not to be considered as "a pass of any sort," O.P.A. officials explained.

Gen. MacArthur Denies Reports

Makes Statement In Defense Of Maj. Gen. Lewis Brereton's Conduct Of Air War

By LEE VAN ATTA
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 25.—Difficulties confronting American airmen in the Philippines at the outbreak of the Pacific war were graphically described today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur in a statement replying to unnamed critics of Maj. Gen. Lewis Brereton's conduct of the air war in that theater.

Apparently referring to newspaper and magazine articles, Gen. MacArthur, in his longest public statement since the war started, charged that "a number of statements implying criticism" of Gen. Brereton, now commander of the U.S. 9th Air Force in the Middle East, were based on "complete lack of knowledge of the facts involved."

Gen. MacArthur disclosed that when the Japanese struck, Gen. Brereton had in the Philippines only a token air force of 35 bombers and 72 fighter planes, excluding training planes and "hopelessly obsolete" other craft. In addition only Clark Field was usable by heavy bombers on Luzon Island and only five other dromes were available for fighters.

The entire Philippine command had been put on a full war footing two weeks before the outbreak of the war, he said. Relating occurrences of December 8, 1941, when the Japs first bombed the Philippines, Gen. MacArthur pointed out that American planes were used to fullest advantage.

During this attack and on succeeding days a number of planes were destroyed on the ground while landing for gasoline or essential maintenance, Gen. MacArthur said, adding:

"But it was never as a result of negligence on the part of Gen. Brereton or his gallant subordinates. His tiny air force was crushed by sheer weight of numbers."

An eagle vulture is a vulturine sea eagle placed by some ornithologists between the eagles and kites, and by others nearer the true vultures It isa bird of prey of the West African coast region from Senegambia to Angola, and also of a limited district near Zanzibar.

WIDOW OF GENERAL DONATES HER BLOOD

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES — Mrs. H. H. George, widow of Brig. Gen. George, aide to General MacArthur, who was killed by a runaway plane in Australia last year, appeared at the Red Cross blood bank recently to donate her third pint of blood.

"I had the day off and couldn't think of a better way to spend it," she explained.

Corn Stocks To Be Requisitioned

War Food Administration To Proceed Against Warehouses To Get Stocks

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The war food administration will act today to requisition corn stocks in terminal market elevators in 15 major cities in an attempt to supply the war needs of processing plants, it was learned here.

The move to requisition corn will affect warehouses in Chicago, Duluth, Kansas City, Decatur, Burlington, Des Moines, St. Louis, St. Joseph, Minneapolis, Sioux City Louisville, Indianapolis, Peoria, Omaha and Manitowac, Wis.

Officials explained the action was made necessary because of an acute corn shortage, which has resulted from a "squeeze" in the corn price set-up. The present unusual relationship between corn and hog prices has made it more profitable for farmers to keep their corn stocks at home for animal feed than to ship corn to the markets, it was said.

Therefore, proceesing plants and farmers in non-corn belt states have had difficulty in getting enough corn supplies to keep going. The processing plants are declared to be vital to the war effort and materials made by them are used in the manufacture of explosives, aluminum, magnesium steel and other products.

The seizures will be carried out by regional attorneys of the agriculture department who have been instructed to file suits to requisition corn.

VOTE IN IRELAND

(International News Service)

DUBLIN, June 25.—The final tally of the general parliamentary elections today gave Prime Minister Eamon DeValera's Fianna Fail party 67 seats in the Dail, against a combined opposition of 71.

The fine Gael party, led by DeValera's bitterest opponent, William T. Cosgrave, won 32 seats, the Labor party 17, the Farmers party 9 and independent candidates 13.

In the 1938 elections the Fianna Fail won 77 seats.

RIFT CONTINUES

(International News Service)

CANBERRA, June 25.—The rift between Prime Minister John Curtin's government and oppositionists appeared as wide as ever today after the government, by a 16-14 vote, defeated an opposition amendment to a bill extending the voting Franchise to all members of the fighting services, regardless of age.

The amendment would have limited the voting privilege to service personnel who had served outside the commonwealth.

If Willkie gets the nomination, he will be through forever. He'd better wait until 1948, when we'll be mopping up the Japs.

Brig. Gen. Forrest May Be Prisoner

Lost In Plane Attack On Germany On June 13; Likely "Bailed Out"

By EARLE POORBAUGH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

A FLYING FORTRESS STATION SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, June 25. — "Very good chance" that Brig. Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest, great-grandson and namesake of a famed confederate cavalry general, may be alive and a prisoner of war in Germany was disclosed at this fortress station today.

Gen Forrest, according to an official announcement, was lost on June 13 during a heavy American raid on the German naval base of Kiel.

Participants in the attack now stationed at this base reported that eight parachutes were seen to open from the plane in which Gen. Forrest was flying as an observer. The mission was Gen. Forrest's second. He had participated in an attack on Cuxhaven the day before and was slated to command a heavy bombardment unit.

Gen. Forrest was flying in the lead plane of his group when the craft received its first hit. With No. 4 engine smoking, the plane nevertheless got over its target and dropped its bombs.

Four enemy planes attracted by the crippled ship closed in for attack. Several explosive shells were seen to hit Gen. Forrest's fort, which dropped down, banking sharply to the right. When last seen, the ship was still under control, providing an opportunity for the crew to parachute to safety.

Fifteen Hundred Tons Of Bombs Are Dropped Last Night

LONDON, June 25.—London observers today estimated that the R. A. F. raid last night on the industrial Ruhr town of Elberfeld probably was as heavy as that delivered against nearby Barmen May 29, and when 1,500 tons of bombs laid waste to more than 1,000 acres.

Since other British bombers also ranged over the Ruhr last night, these observers said it is probable that the total bomb load delivered during the night was far in excess of 1,500 tons. Mine-laying operations also were believed to have added to the chaos of already sorely tried German land and water communications.

VICTORY CLINICS TEACH ADULTS HOW TO LIVE

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS—Victory clinics are being conducted in St. Louis under joint sponsorship of the Office of Civilian Defense and the Board of Education.

Their primary purpose, like that of the victory garden by which you grow your own food, is to teach adults how to conserve clothing and food.

At the initial class, several women demonstrators appeared dressed in suits made from clothes their husbands had outgrown.

The clinics show motion pictures that depict proper care of clothing, how to do small repair jobs, how to launder and dry-clean clothing, and how to operate a home on a wartime basis.

Grip and influenza are infections which are closely allied to the common cold.

Big Ten Conference Abolishes Eligibility Rules

Members Must Enforce Own Playing Standards

Action Taken During Unheralded Special Meeting Held In Chicago

SERVICE PRO ACES PERMITTED TO PLAY

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 25.—Out for the duration of the war today went virtually all the hard and fast eligibility rules established through the years by the big ten conference for its athletes.

Until the peace comes, about the only rules that must be complied with by competitors in baseball, basketball, football and other sports are those calling for regular enrollment and no compensation for services rendered.

Abrogation of long-standing regulations as a wartime measure was announced following an unheralded special meeting in Chicago of conference faculty representatives.

Up To Schools

Specifically, it has been left to each conference members to enforce its own playing standards. The action, in effect, appeared to suspend all eligibility rules, except those dealing with enrollment and professionalism when coupled with previous suspension of residence requirements, the freshman ban.

Even professional athletes may now compete in college sports, provided they are servicemen properly enrolled by the government.

Morever, athletic competition for the duration will not be classified as "intercollegiate," and such participation will not be charged against the record of any athlete when he returns to his school after the war.

The action will serve to clarify uncertainty among a large number of servicemen-athletes who have been transferred by their branch of service from one school to another for special training.

War Measure

In other words, Northwestern Wildcats or Minnesota Gophers transferred, for instance, by the Air Corps, may find themselves playing football this fall for Illinois, but such competition will not be charged against them when they return to their respective instituttions after the war.

The same is true in the case of freshmen, 4-F's and married men.

At Ann Arbor, Prof. Ralph W. Aigler, chairman of the faculty committee, explained.

"It is strictly a war measure and does not represent any change in the basic principles of the conference."

MAJORS TO PLAY FOR WAR RELIEF NEXT WEDNESDAY

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 25.—All 16 major league ball clubs will donate their net receipts from next Wednesday's games to the national war fund, it was revealed today by Robert F. Kelley, director of special events.

This game is the first of two games to be played during the season for war relief.

Sewell Repulses Cubs Fifth Time; Dodgers Defeated

Pittsburgh's Ripper Nails 2-1 Win; Cardinals Whale Reds, 5 To 1

A'S SNAP STREAK; TIGERS TOP INDIANS

By JOHN CASHMAN
International News Service
Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 25—Observers are today claiming that two more weeks will see the Cardinals in the pennant stretch drive, or playing host to fellow unfortunates in the second division. The stock of the Dodgers have been fluctuating of late like those of a wildcat oil outfit, but fluctuating stocks sooner or later go up or down, as will the Dodgers.

The indications today are that the Dodgers will go down. Just when their pitching was supposed to be set; just when the club drew a fresh outburst of grudging praise from Parson Branch Rickey, the Dodgers snapped a six-game winning streak yesterday by losing to the New York Giants, 3 to 1.

Melton Big Star

In this instance, it was the Giants' pitching that was rejuvenated. Cliff Melton, in pitching the winning game, allowed only three singles and issued two walks.

The Cincinnati Reds had earlier afforded the Cards an opportunity to extend their league lead to one and a half games, by dropping a swing-shift contest, 5 to 1. The Cards jumped into a first inning one-run lead and kept it all the way. Harry Gumbert pitched seven-hit ball, keeping the Reds scoreless until the ninth inning.

The Philadelphia Phillies began their fight back into the first division by thrashing the Boston Braves 12 to 5, chasing three Braves hurlers from the mound.

The Philadelphia Athletis snapped a six-game losing streak by defeating the Boston Red Sox, 8 to 3.

Sewell Traps Cubs

Truett (Rip) Sewell, fiery flinger of the Pittsburgh Pirates, chalked up his fifth straight win over the Chicago Cubs, this time in a 2 to 1 decision. The loss dropped the Cubs back into the National league cellar, from which they had boldly ventured two days ago. Although he gave up 11 hits, Sewell had the Cubs in hand after the first inning, when they pushed across one run.

The St. Louis Browns and the Chicago White Sox split a doubleheader, the Brownies taking the first game, 8 to 2, and the White Sox the second, 9 to 2.

Vernon Stephens tenth-inning single brought victory for the Brownies in the opener, and although the White Sox buried their rivals under 16 hits in the nightcap, Stephens' bat was still going. Stephens homered in the sixth, to account for one of two Brownies' runs.

In a free-hitting twilight game at Detroit, the Tigers downed the Cleveland Indians 7 to 4. The Tigers collected 12 hits off four Cleveland pitchers while the Indians got 11 off Virgil Trucks who was credited with his seventh victory of the season.

ENTER BLUE SWORDS IN JERSEY HANDICAP

(International News Service)

CAMDEN, N. J., June 25—Blue Swords, who has consistently trailed the flying hoofs of Count Fleet in the special match races for three-year-olds this year, will be entered in several stakes engagements at Garden State Park, Owner Allen T. Simmons announced recently.

Garden State opens a 50-day meeting on July 7.

Simmons has already entered Blue Swords in the $10,000 added Jersey Handicap, featured race of the meeting set for August 21, and plans to enter other horses in his New York stables in other stakes engagements.

Woodchuck Season Will Open July 1

Sportsmen Urged To Salvage Fats During Three-Month Campaign

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 25.—Emphasizing the need for fats for explosives, the state game commission today urged sportsmen to render the carcasses of Woodchucks killed during the three-month season opening July 1.

More than 200,000 Woodchucks are killed annually, the commission said, and trappers, fur dealers and rendering plants cooperated last fall in saving approximately 94 tons of grease for manufacturing munitions.

DODDS TO RACE HAEGG JULY 2

Event Carded In Soldier Field, Chicago; Swede Aims At Records

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service
Sports Writer

CHICAGO, June 25.—Fabulous tales of a human curio who they say, manages to be both antelope man and ham actor in equal measures have been wafted westward ahead of Gunder Haegg, the singular Swede, for the second showing of his American booking here on the night of July 2 at Soldier Field. However, before going into that too deeply, it may be as well to state that the local promotion plans to match Haegg at the two mile distance with Gil Dodds, the Boston divinity student, Jerry Thompson, the N.C.A.A. champion at the distance, and if feasible, Gregory Rice.

This Dodds man is definitely another matter. Haegg, for instance, has announced that he proposes to go after his own world's record at the distance. . . . 8 minutes and 47 seconds. And Dodds might be the kind of a mouth organ to make him do it.

Sharp As Scalpel

Anyhow, he has run the race somewhere down in the low 8:50's. He has a tremendous kick-finish and right now he's sharper than a scalpel. Outside of that, though, there wouldn't be anything to the race.

Anybody who saw the race last Sunday gives him too much of a chance, however. They'd like to. In fact, if they had their way back in the east, they probably would start a Gunder Haegg-for-dog catcher movement, based on their short experience with a unique character who appears to put the snoot on for everybody, times his entrances (and exits) somewhat in the style of a belasco in bloomers and behaves in general like a third rate tenor in the San Carlo opera company.

Transfer Stebbins From Athens Post

(International News Service)

ATHENS, Ga., June 25—U. S. navy preflight school officials today announced the transfer of Lieut. (JG) George D. Shay, USNR, former Bowdoin college coach and one-time Notre Dame football player, and Ensign Harold (Hal) R. Stebbins, USNR, one-time star halfback and assistant coach at the University of Pittsburgh, to undisclosed naval units.

A native of West Hartford, Conn., Lieut. Shay served in Athens as a football instructor, and recently, as commander of a platoon of cadets engaged in the 12-week course of study and physical conditioning.

Since January Ensign Stebbins, a native of Williamsport, Pa., served as commander of a platoon of aviation cadets. He achieved pigskin fame at Pitt as a member of the "dream backfield," which also included Marshall Goldberg, Dick Cassiano and John Chickerneo.

TACOMA CAGER PERFECT PLAYER

TACOMA, Wash., June 25—The answer to a basketball coach's prayer is Gordon Reynolds, 18-year-old senior at Clover Park high school.

Reynolds was captain of the basketball team and gets straight A's in electricity, chemistry, physics and solid geometry and B-plus in German.

But that's not all. He is president of the student body, assistant janitor at the school, a member of the senior class play cast, and a civilian defense worker. He plays in a band, milks the family cow every morning and has a girl.

He plans to be a doctor.

Wampum Team Seeks Opponent

Wampum Whitesox baseball team today issued a challenge to the Moose, Shenango Pottery, Lawrence Indies, Elders and Ellwood City.

The Sox would like to play one of the aforementioned foes Wednesday night at Wampum. The game can be scheduled by calling Wampum 2711 and asking for Bud, after five o'clock.

Moose-Indies Grab Triumphs In City League

Leaders Repel Elders By 4-2 Count; Indies Drub Potters, 15-2

VAN DUSEN HURLS THREE-HIT FRAY

With a half dozen more games decorating the first half schedule, the Moose club is well on its way to the championship, performances up to date indicate.

Last Tuesday, the Rodenbaugh-directed outfit upended the Indies from the top post by scoring a 2-1 triumph. Last night on Lee avenue field, the Moose displayed rare class in sidetracking the Elders, 4-2.

Gunnett Vs. Campbell

For three innings, Manager Dory Gunnett of the Elders and Campbell unfurled an even game. The Elders then punched across two runs; the Moose did likewise in their half of the inning.

A tally in each of the fifth and sixth enabled the Moose to chalk up an important win, their seventh compared to three setbacks. Coulter, Thomas and Pitcher Campbell led the 13-hit assault, each garnering two singles. McCullough starred for the Elders with a pair of one-base knocks.

"The Lawrence Indies kept right on the heels of the leaders by crushing the tailend Shenango Pottery unit, 15-2, on Cedar street grounds.

Score 10 Runs

After spotting the Potters two runs in the top of the first, the Zidowmen slapped Balla, the first of three twirlers, at will. In the bottom of the opening chapter, the Indies scooted around the sacks for six markers and followed through with four more in the second to clinch the decision.

VanDusen turned in one of the niftiest performances of the season, limiting the losers to three hits. Balla, Budai and Johnson yielded 15 socks. John Wilk, Rainey, Russo and VanDusen each whacked two hits.

The Indies trail the leaders by a half game with a won 6 and lost 3 mark.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Uncle Sam wants his army policemen big and strong. Sports Ramblings

Sports Memos:---

"It may take time to catch up with them, but when they do, the Americans will give Hirohito's lads as much of a thrashing as Max Schmeling absorbed the night he made the mistake of fighting Louis again." This was Mike Diffley's answer to a question I posed. In view of the fact that the effable Mike spent most of the 1932 summer playing baseball in the Land of the Rising Sun, his slant on the slant-eyed sneaks is worth jotting down . . . .

"From the time we boarded the Jap ship," Diffley continued, "I noticed a marked degree of crudeness in the Japs. They were awkward during the staging of practice drills in the event of an accident to the ship. The same was true on the diamond. The Michigan team was ordinary, so far as baseball ability was concerned. The Japs picked the cream of their country still, we won 10 out of 14, without having to press too hard" . . . .

Regarding the Japs' condition, Diffley's commented went something like this: "They handle themselves well—that is when they have the upper hand. Physically fit, the Japs, nevertheless, didn't and don't have it today, especially in a clutch. Physically, mentally or in any other way, the Jap can't match the American boy. They certainly haven't overcome all this in 11 years. They'll find out before it's all over . . . .

Following the headlines: Haegg prefers vacations. Who doesn't? . . . Nova-Savold fight called off in Chicago To which Chicagoans said: "Thanks for little favors" . . . Galento's future fights strictly entertainment. From heavyweight tittle contender to vaudeville . . . Blackout darkens Athletic-Red Sox game. The Athletics have spent so much time in the lower compartments of the A. L. that they probably were unaffected by the darkness . . . .

No less than eight big league hurlers have muffed no-hit no-run games this year. Mort Cooper was the victim twice within a week . . . "Lefty" Gomez's departure from the Yankee dynasty was a front office move and not one made by Manager Joe Carthy, according to those who know . . . Dartmouth's 1943 grid hopes rests almost entirely on the availability of Naval and Marine students.

OSSIE BLUEGE NAMES JOHNSON NATS' KEY MAN

"Everyone Playing Good Ball But Johnson Standout," Manager Says

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Manager Ossie Bluege rates Outfielder Bob Johnson the key performer in the Senators' challange for the American league pennant.

Discussing his Washington squad, Ossie said, "everyone on the club is playing good ball, but the standout is Bob Johnson.

Inspires Team

"Bob's batting average is not sensational; I believe he's hitting in the .260s. But his hitting has been timely; he has been driving in runs. And he's been playing excellently in the field. But even more important is the inspiration which his hustle and determination has given the other players."

Johnson, the 34-year-old Cherokee Indian slugger, came to the Senators on March 31 in a deal with the Athletics. Bob had played with Connie Mack's Philadelphia outfit for 10 years.

Reaction Excellent

Everyone wondered at the time how Johnson would react to his first change of uniform since coming to the majors in 1933. Apparently his reaction has been excellent. He has driven in 35 runs so far, to rank fourth in the majors in that department. Last season he drove in 80 with the Athletics, his smallest number during the decade with the Mackmen. He accounted for 121 in 1936.

Walsh Claims Wilson's Post With Cubs Safe

Jimmy Has Gallagher's Backing; Lou Novikoff Is Scribes' Target

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, June 24—Just to keep the books balanced during the period covered by the accustomed mid-summer audit, inventory and managerial liquidation that's held around here every third-to-the fifth year inclusive, it seems it can be stated pretty authoritatively today that the man everybody thought was a mortal cinch to lose his job . . . won't!

The man, it need hardly be said, is Jimmy Wilson, the old goal-tender and backstop who's been managing Mr. Wrigley's Cubs for the better, or worse, part of three years while they've been trying to find out whether they're still in the National League or playing pushball with Wellesley. You might say the jury's still out on that one.

Backed By Gallagher

"It has never been in question," our man asserts, pretty positively. "James T. Gallagher is determined to back Wilson to the limit."

Nothing was said about who might be going to back James T. Gallagher to the limit but of course that's probably in the old receptacle. In the first place, crowds on the road and at home have been good. In the second, we understand that Gallagher's stewartship over the strong box has been acute, if not astute; he has saved his way into solvency and budgeted everything into the blue.

Novikoff Target

We may be mistaken, but we think there might even be a ball-writer cabal against the man, since some of the writers have seemed over-insistent about his buffooneries. And elaborately indifferent to his occasional contributions to the success of a club whose successes have not been notable. They were less so however, before he joined it.

So, in the circumstances, it would seem the sensible thing to let the guy play ball for you, if he can.

SOME NECKING, EH, GIRLS?

NO LOVERS LANE SURROUNDINGS, but a necking party nevertheless. The rasslers (or do you call 'em burpers, or matmen, or grunt and groan "artists") are putting on their act for the personnel of the U. The guy getting the squeeze is Don Crimger, while the gentleman (pardon me) learning the ropes of the game is Al Galliano. (International)

CHICAGO, June 25—Lieut. Paul D. (Tony) Hinkle, football coach at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, today was named an assistant to Head Coach Harry Stuhldreher in preparing the College All-Stars for their annual game the night of Aug. 25.

The All-Stars will play the Washington Redskins, National Football League champions, in Dyche Stadium, Northwestern University, in Evanston, Ill.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Office of Defense Transportation is keeping an eye on how major league clubs traverse the country because of a story some weeks ago in the Washington Post which said that the Senators were riding in day coaches when they might as well ride in Pullmans because all of the other major league clubs were using Pullmans. Recently the Post received a letter from the ODT which said in part that the Senators deserved commendation for using the day coaches in obedience to the ODT while other clubs had not done so. The letter said a check was under way and added: "We're ready to crack down." Every club is getting a letter from the ODT and from Judge K. M. Landis to the effect that there is no sense in any club getting the impression they are getting away with anything.

First American record for the 2,000-meter run was made by Gil Dodds, the Boston divinity student at Passaic. The mark is 5:38.8, 27 seconds slower than the world's mark for the route set last year by Gunder Haegg in Sweden...New uniforms to be worn by Pitt Panthers this fall will be similar to the ones chosen by Coach Clark Shaughnessy when he was at Maryland U....The NBA has asserted that any barnstorming carried on by Tony Galento would be strictly entertainment and not considered boxing competition...In an address at Washington, Senator James M. Mead, New York, told the Touchdown club he advocated the continuance of sports as an integral part of the war effort.

Today there arrived a postcard from a chap we've watched grow from babyhood to become a sailor for Uncle Sam, Gordon Greer, 17, son of Phil, ex-service man who was associated with us in many athletic ventures, especially at the Jolly bowl. Gordon writes he likes the station and is training to become a machinist's mate. Not so long ago Bill Bradley, former amateur boxer, was stationed at Sampson and indications are Gordon may meet some other New Castle boys at the training station.

Segura Extended In Tennis Meet

South American Reaches Semi-Final In National College Tourney

(International News Service)

EVANSTON, Ill., June 25.—The celebrated two-handed drives of Francisco "Pancho" Segura, the nation's fourth ranking net star, will be turned loose today on the University of Southern California's Earl Cochell.

Their match is one of the men's singles semi-finals of the 59th annual national intercollegiate tennis tournament on the courts of Northwestern university.

The other semi-final round brings together Tom Brown, Jr., from the University of California and Jimmy Evert of Notre Dame, the mid-west's lone survivor in the singles.

Segura Extended

Segura, a sophomore at the University of Miami and top-seeded in the meet, was extended to move into the round of four when he encountered stubborn resistance for the first time yesterday. It was offered by Wayne Anderson, Tulane's left-hander. The score with 6-3, 6-3, and the little South American was forced to come from behind in both sets.

Cochell moved up by eliminating Robert Odman, University of Washington, 6-4, 6-1. Brown, seeded second, won from Robert Kimbrell, Southern California, 6-3, 6-1. Evert defeated Earl Bartlett, Tulane, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4.

No-Hit Clashes Rare As Radium

Carver Says Someone Will Come Up With One Before Season Ends

ONLY 6 PERFECT GAMES IN BOOKS

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 25.—Pitching a perfect ball game falls into the category of extreme rarities in sports, like picking eight straight races, scoring a touchdown every time you handle the ball in football, and scoring a hundred knockouts in a row in boxing.

Yet somebody is going to come up with a no-hit, no-run performance this season, a season made to order for hurlers due to the lack of rabbit in the ball and the absence of most of the big hitters.

To give you a better idea of how difficult a no-hitter is, there wasn't a single one pitched last season and only one in 1941, this being Lon Warneke's memorable performance for the Cardinals against the Cincinnati Reds. In 1940 Bob Feller hurled one for the Indians against the White Sox and Tex Carlton came through in like fashion for the Dodgers against the Reds.

None In 1939

The year 1939 was one of drought for this banner achievement, while in 1938 Monte Pearson beat the Indians for the Yankees allowing no hits, and Johnny Vander Meer hurled two of them in a row, beating Boston and Brooklyn in order for Cincinnati.

Those are no-hit games we are referring to. Some men reached base to keep these from being perfect performances.

Going all the way back to 1880, there have been only six absolutely perfectly pitched games. In that earliest year, the then majors were astounded when John Lee Richmond and John W. Ward turned in perfect performances.

There wasn't another one until 1904 when Denton Young of Boston made muggs out of the Philadelphia Athletics. The next was in 1908, being perpetrated by Addie Joss of Cleveland against Chicago. In 1917 Ernie Shore of Boston stopped Washington cold without letting a runner get on and in 1922 C. C. Robertson of Chicago did the same to Detroit.

There is a story behind that 1917 game, story involving Babe Ruth and not as a hitter either.

The Babe started on the mound that day for the Red Sox, but was chased out of the game by the umpires after giving a base on balls to the first hitter who faced him.

Shore Did It

Shore immediately took the Babe's place without even warming up, and the lead off hitter who had reached base on the walk was caught stealing second. From there on Shore pitched to only 26 men, allowing no hits and being given perfect support afield so that not another man reached base.

At the start of this season, it will be recalled, any pitcher who allowed more than three or four hits was booed as a tramp. That was when the deadest ball used in modern times inadvertently was in play. Nearly any pitcher who could even lob the ball to the plate flirted with the hall of fame, every day.

Then they put in the slightly livelier pellet now in use—but one that is still far from a bullet—and the hitters took command.

Still, low hit games are numerous and somebody is going to come up with a no-hitter sooner or later, and maybe with a perfect game.

CHANCES EQUAL

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Urging every man who has had any previous football experience to report for drill, Coch Fritz Crisler said:

"Next fall we'll be using men who in other years would have had but scant chance to make the squad and I hope all those who went out for football in high school report for our spring drills. Our practices will be devoted principally to conditioning as it is impossible to tell what men may still be in school next fall."

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 25—Whirlaway, Warren Wright's sensational money-winner, was listed today as a probable starter in tomorrow's $10,000 feature, the Equipoise Mile, in the Arlington Park program at Washington Park.

Seven horses remained as possible starters, with Whirlaway, weighted at 126, conceding from eight to 22 pounds to his rivals.

Best Seller, winner of the Equipoise Mile last year, will try it again tomorrow. Another entry is Rounders, once conqueror of Whirlaway, and his Valdina farm stablemade, Valdina Orphan.

Fairaris, a Canadian speedster owned by R. S. McLaughlin, was getting some attention after a six-furlong workout yesterday in 1.12 1-5.

AT LAST

PHILADELPHIA — Phillies and the Athletics each won a doubleheader recently for the first time in eight years. Back on July 4, 1935, the A's beat Washington, 6-3 and 2-1 at Shibe Park, while the Phils humbled Brooklyn at Ebbets Field, 3-2 and 8-7 in ten innings.

TENNIS FINALS ARE SCHEDULED TODAY

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 25—Jean Crook, 16-year-old Radnor high school star, meets Sylvia Knowles, first seeded player from Springside school, in the finals of the Middle States girls' tennis championship at the Philadelphia Cricket club.

Miss Crook downed 13-year-old Deborah Welsh, Westtown school, 6-4, 6-1 yesterday, while Miss Knowles turned back Jane Austin, Lower Merion high, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Lunch-Time Mitt Show Is Latest

PHILADELPHIA, June 25 — Lunch-time boxing bouts will be a regular attraction at the Philadelphia navy yard each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday during the summer. The schedule got off to a colorful start when Tommy Loughran, former world light-heavyweight champion, served as referee. Now a corporal in the marines, Loughran was home on furlough.

NEW YORK — Athletic directors meet here the latter part of July to discuss their manifold problems.

BAD EYED TWIRLER

Charlie Schanz, new pitching sensation of the San Diego Padres, is 4-F in the draft because of very bad eyes.

BANJO CHOLLY

Charley Grimm not only manages the Milwaukee Brewers, but he plays a banjo to help entertain the fans on big days.

SERVES on All Fronts

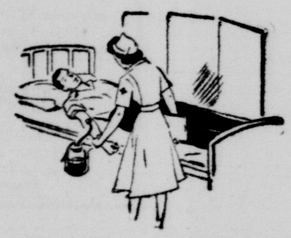
A HUNDRED AND SIXTY-THREE of our young men and women are on duty all over the world, in the U. S. Army, Navy, Marines, Waacs, Waves and Spars.



The rest of us are buying War Bonds, donating blood to the Red Cross, collecting fats and scrap metals, serving in Civilian Defense... and making uniforms for our armed forces and good clothes for the men behind the men behind the guns.

Above all, we are holding the fort against the twin enemies of rising prices and falling quality.

The Richman Family considers it a privilege to do these things for the cause of freedom and the American way of life.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESSEALL

Surprising how nice the weather is keeping up . . . it will be nice and warm and sunny until the week-end and then the rains will come . . . but that's alright too . . . a little rain would do the garden well and we need the food.

And that reminds us to remind you to sign up for work on a farm this summer . . . just as much time as you can possibly spare. Putting up hay, shocking wheat, working in the truck gardens . . . many a job that you can help with. Really folks there is great need for your help . . . the farmer has planted all he could and we promised that we would help him get in the harvest. Food will help win the war and if you could just realize the seriousness of the food situation we would not have to mention getting out and helping with the work. You would be there, each and every one who could possibly spare the time . . . The Emergency Farm Labor Office located in the Lobby of the Penn Power Building will help you locate work . . . farmers call in there and leave their needs. So won't you help.

A letter has just arrived from Stg. Clair R. Gibson who is in the 42nd Division Band at Camp Gruber, Okla. . . . he tells about the organizing of a new "Rainbow" Division and it will take place officially on the 14th of July . . . anniversary of the old "Rainbow" Division of World War 1 . . . This division will be composed of men from every state in the union, according to population and most of the personel will be young men, about nineteen year old . . . the officers have been handpicked by the War Department and the trainers have been carefully selected so that, to quote General Collins, division commander . . . "Nobody in this division shall die in battle because of lack of training" . . . he also says that the "Rainbow" Division will be one of the snappiest, peppiest and "fightingest" outfits ever put into action by the army . . . Sgt. Gibson will play in the band for the "Rainbow" and while at camp he has a dance band and with him from New Castle is Sgt. Jack McCullough of N. Mercer Street . . . Sgt. Gibson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Gibson of R. D. No. 1 Edinburg.

Wonder how many New Castle men will actually be in the new "Rainbow" Division? If you know of any let us know . . . please.

LEGAL NOTICES

AN ORDINANCE

Establishing a curfew in the City of New Castle and fixing the hours between which it shall be unlawful for any person under the age of 17 years to be in or upon any public street, or any public place in the City of New Castle; providing for the enforcement of the said ordinance and of an ordinance which was approved the 28th day of February, 1899, and recorded in Ordinance Book 4, Page 272; providing for special places of temporary detention of the violators of the curfew laws of the City; and providing penalties for the violation of this ordinance.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Council of the City of New Castle that there is hereby established in the City of New Castle a curfew time during which hours it shall be unlawful for any person under 17 years of age to be in or upon any public street in the City of New Castle or in any other public place, and it is hereby provided that it shall be unlawful hereafter for any person under the age of 17 years to be in or upon any public street or any other public place between the hours of 11:00 P. M. Wartime and 7:00 A. M. Wartime of the following day, unless such person be accompanied by his or her parent or guardian.

SECTION 2. For the purpose of enforcing this ordinance and an ordinance of the City of New Castle approved the 28th day of February, 1899, recorded in Ordinance Book 4, Page 272, establishing the curfew time for persons under the age of 14 years, it is hereby made the duty of every police officer and other official of the said City to use all diligence in enforcement of this ordinance and said ordinance of February 28, 1899, and any police officer who shall neglect to use such dilligence in the enforcement of these ordinances shall be subject to dismissal from office.

SECTION 3. For the public welfare and safety, and for the purpose of enforcing this ordinance, every officer of the City of New Castle shall have authority, and it shall be his or her duty to apprehend every person found in or upon a public street or any other public place in violation of this ordinance, or of the said ordinance of 1899, and to bring such person to the City Building, or some other suitable and designated place, for examination and detention. All such violators shall be examined separately and apart from all other persons, except the officers conducting the examination, who shall not be more than Two at any one time, and a record shall be made of the name, age, place of residence, parents, or guardian of the said violator; and immediately thereafter such violators shall be taken to his or her home and personally turned over to his or her parent or guardian with advice to the said violator and his or her parent or guardian as to the provisions of this ordinance, and the said ordinance of 1899, and the penalties for their violation; Provided, however, that in the examination of such violator his or her parent, guardian, or attorney, shall be permitted to be present.

SECTION 4. If upon the apprehension of any person for a violation of this ordinance, and the said ordinance of 1899, it shall be determined by the officers of the City that such person has been formerly apprehended for a violation of either of the said ordinances, such person shall be detained by the police in a place to be designated and provided by the Council of the City of New Castle for that purpose until not later than 9:00 A. M. of the following day, before which time such violator shall be given a hearing before the Mayor or other magistrate, or person to be designated as magistrate by Council for that purpose, whereupon the said Mayor or magistrate shall make such disposition of the matter according to the methods provided by this ordinance or by other law, and may impose such penalties as are so provided as will in his judgment, be most inductive to the prevention of further delinquency by the said violator; provided, however that if the Mayor or other magistrate is of the opinion that such violator is a delinquent or is apt to become a delinquent child, he shall direct the proper officer of the City to turn such violator over to the Juvenile Court in the manner provided by law for such purpose.

SECTION 5. Persons apprehended and detained for violation of this ordinance, or the said ordinance of 1899, shall not be confined or imprisoned in the common jail of the City of New Castle, but there shall be provided a suitable room in the City Building, at some other place, under the supervision of a proper person designated for that purpose where all such violators shall be detained privately until final disposition may be made of their case.

All persons who shall violate this ordinance, or any provisions thereof, or of the said ordinance of 1899, shall be subject to immediate arrest on sight and detention according to the provisions of this ordinance; and for a second offense, shall be detained for a period not to exceed 10 days under the conditions provided by this ordinance, or shall be committed to the Juvenile Court of Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, in the manner provided by law and passed by the Act of 1933, June 2, P. L. 1433, Section 4.

SECTION 6. This ordinance being an emergency measure shall go into effect immediately upon its final passage.

SECTION 7. This ordinance shall be known as a War Measure and shall be effective for the duration of the present war and for six months thereafter.

I, C. Ed. Brown, City Clerk of the City of New Castle, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing ordinance was adopted by the Council of the City of New Castle, Pa., signed by the Mayor and attested by the City Clerk.

In witness whereof, I hereunto set my hand and affix the corporate seal of the City, this 17th day of June, 1943.

C. ED. BROWN, City Clerk.

LEGAL NOTICES

AN ORDINANCE

Providing for the settlement of all improvement liens filed in favor of the City of New Castle prior to January 1, 1936.

WHEREAS, the City of New Castle, by ordinance passed October 17, 1940, and recorded in Ordinance Book, Volume 17, Page 4, provided for the reduction of interest charges upon and for the settlement of all improvement liens filed in favor of the City of New Castle prior to January 1, 1936, whereby many of the said liens have been settled, and

WHEREAS, because of the provisions of various Acts of Assembly abating interest and penalties to tax claims, many improvement liens that might otherwise have been collected have been allowed to remain unpaid in order that the delinquent taxes might be paid instead so that many of the liens have grown to an amount that properties against which they are filed will not produce sum sufficient to pay the said liens, and

WHEREAS, great many properties in the City of New Castle against which such liens are filed have been sold for taxes or abandoned by their owners because of the burden of the said improvement liens, and

WHEREAS, most of the said improvement liens filed prior to January 1, 1936, were assessed according to the foot-front rule at a price much in excess of the rate at which such improvements are now paid for and assessed, and of the said old improvements were made entirely at the expense of the property owner, which is no longer the practice in the City of New Castle, and

WHEREAS, all of the said liens filed prior to January 1, 1936, were filed for improvements made and paid for by certificates of the City of New Castle which have now been absorbed by bond issues and other payments of tax money, which is no longer the practice of the City of New Castle, so that the interest charge against the City of New Castle for the making of the said improvements have long since ceased, and

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of New Castle is of the opinion that all of the said liens filed prior to January 1, 1936, which can possibly be collected from the said properties, could now be collected if the interest and penalties thereon were remitted and rebated and that if such settlement of the said liens is not made at this time, the City of New Castle will never be able to collect more than a very small percentage of the said liens and will suffer great loss, thereby, that it is for the general benefit and welfare of the City to have all of the said liens settled within the next twelve (12) months

SECTION 1. NOW THEREFORE BE IT ORDAINED AND ENACTED by the Council of the City of New Castle that, in order to settle all improvement liens filed in favor of the City of New Castle prior to January 1, 1936, the City Solicitor is authorized and directed to settle the said liens at the face, thereof, with the costs which have been paid to preserve the same at any time prior to the 1st day of July, 1945; provided the persons interested in the properties against which such liens are filed shall agree with the City Solicitor or on before the first day of July, 1944, to pay the same within one year from the date of such agreement according to the following plan, to-wit:

Any person so interested in any of the said properties shall sign a written statement to the City Solicitor that he proposes to pay the said lien off within twelve (12) months from the date of such statement and shall pay to the City Solicitor at least one-twelfth of the amount of the original claim with costs and shall pay the balance of the said original claim with costs in eleven (11) additional equal monthly payments, so that all of the original claim with costs shall be fully paid within twelve (12) months from the date of the said statement and agreement of settlement.

Any person who shall desire to do so may pay the original claim and costs on any of the said liens in full at any time prior to the 1st day of July, 1944, or, if he has signed a statement and agreement of settlement prior to that date, he may pay the whole of the said original claim with costs at any time within twelve (12) months from the date of the said statement or agreement.

SECTION 2. Whenever any person has paid the original claim and face of any lien filed in favor of the City of New Castle, prior to January 1, 1936, after this ordinance has become effective, and in accordance with the terms of this ordinance, the said lien shall be satisfied and the City Solicitor shall cause the same to be marked satisfied on the records in the office of the Prothonotary of the County of Lawrence.

I, C. Ed. Brown, City Clerk of the City of New Castle, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing ordinance was adopted by the Council of the City of New Castle, Pa., signed by the Mayor and attested by the City Clerk.

In witness whereof, I hereunto set my hand and affix the corporate seal of the City, this 17th day of June, 1943.

C. ED. BROWN, City Clerk.

Some New Highs For Year Are Reached By Some New York Market Stocks

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 25—Higher prices with many new highs for the year, featured today's market—the fourth in a row this week to show improvement.

Industrials, steels, rubbers, motors and auto equipment shares showed the majority advances. Activity was as the best rate of the week. Rails were quiet and gains here were but fractional, whereas leaders in other sections gained a point or more.

Among pivotal shares to reach new high ground were Chrysler, Firestone, Goodyear, Borg Warner, International Harvester, Owens Illinois, Libby-Owens, Sears Roebuck and Celanese. Stocks that gained a point or more included Douglas, Lockheed, Montgomery Ward, American C. & F., Bethlehem, Crucible and U. S. Steel.

THURSDAY NIGHT SOCIAL AFFAIRS

Many Enjoyable Club Meetings Take Place At Various Homes In Community

ELLWOOD CITY, June 25.—Among the many enjoyable club meetings of Thursday were:

J. F. F. Club

Mrs. Thomas Dowswell and Mrs. Melissa Nagel were special guests of the J. F. F. club when members gathered at the home of Mrs. Mary Hill, Hazen avenue.

Cards were enjoyed, with the nice honors going to Mrs. N. J. Gordon, Mrs. Anna Franz and Mrs. Leonard Nagel. Mrs. Franz aided in serving cooling refreshments.

In two weeks Mrs. Sadie McMurdo will entertain in her home, in Clover avenue.

500 Club

Mrs. Galen Biddle opened her home, at Ellport, to associates of the 500 club, with Mrs. Charles McElwain, Mrs. A. H. Long and Mrs. Clair Courson being special guests.

After several hours of cards the attractive honors went to Mrs. Bert Strutt, Mrs. Michael Huber and Mrs. Galen Biddle, and the guest honor to Mrs. McElwain.

Mrs. Harry Wimer and Mrs. Courson aided the hostess in serving a dainty lunch before members departed, to meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Russell Book, Franklin avenue.

Townsend Club

A card and bingo party was held by the Townsend club at the old City Hall, with awards going to Mrs. Charles Morrison, Mrs. Clyde Beeman, D. B. Gallagher and Mrs. Rose Nicklas for cards, and Mrs. Walter Blatchford and Mrs. Edward Christie for bingo.

Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Louise Gregor and Mrs. Irvin Tritt, and refreshments were served by Mrs. G. H. Bauder and committee.

M. And M. Club

A tureen dinner was enjoyed by M. and M. club members at the home of Mrs. Pearl Reed, First avenue.

Cards followed with the honors going to Mrs. Eva Young and Mrs. Maud Gillespie, and the bingo awards to Mrs. Goldie McConahy and Mrs. Bertha Marion.

On Thursday, July 22, the club meets with Mrs. Jennie Relph, Line avenue.

Progressive Eight Club

The Park avenue home of Mrs. Lewis Bintrim was the meeting place for Progressive Eight club members.

To Mrs. F. D. Powell went the first prize for bridge and the travel award went to Mrs. Floyd Miesel. The hostess was aided by her daughter Lois Jane in serving an appealing lunch.

Members were invited to meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Andrew Zekell, Line avenue.

Christian W. M. S.

Fifteen members of the Young Matron's Missionary society of the First Christian church were welcomed at the home of Mrs. Ralph Deemer, Beaver Falls road.

Mrs. Herman Patton installed the following new officers: President, Mrs. Harry Saum; vice president, Mrs. Patton, and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Lowell Monroe.

Mrs. Monroe presented the program with articles being given by Mrs. Joseph Milnes, Mrs. Deemer and Mrs. Saum, and a solo was sung by Mrs. Ferguson. It was decided to send a box of clothing to a mission station in Kentucky.

After an informal hour, the hostess served a refreshing lunch. Thursday, July 22, is the time of the next meeting.

THOMPSON REUNION

ELLWOOD CITY, June 25—The annual Thompson reunion planned for the last Sunday of June at the Homewood Methodist church has been cancelled because of general war conditions.

Shelby Club To Present Program For Wounded Men

ELLWOOD CITY, June 25.—The American Legion and Chamber of Commerce War Activity committee wish to sincerely thank the local Moose club for the splendid program offered to the wounded soldiers at the Deshon hospital in Butler on Wednesday night.

Tuesday night the Shelby Social club will entertain the inmates of that hospital with an out-door boxing show. The officials of the Shelby Social club will set up a ring and furnish the same type of grudge fight show that was presented here a few weeks ago.

The Social club will furnish the boys with cigarets and spare no expense in giving them one of the finest boxing cards that they have ever witnessed.

Walter Drotloff Reported Missing

Son Of Former Ellwood Residents Lost In European War Area

ELLWOOD CITY, June 25.—Technical sergeant Walter P. "Bud" Drotloff, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Drotloff, of New Galilee formerly of the Ellwood district, has been missing in action in the European area since June 13, according to an official message received yesterday by his parents.

Drotloff was a flight engineer on a B-17 Flying Fortress, and had been stationed in England for the past several months. He enlisted in the Army Air Corps on December 12, 1942—eighteen months ago.

Before entering the service, he had made his home for the past nine years with his brother, Henry Drotloff, of this city, and was associated with him in the garage business.

His brother, Pvt. William Drotloff, was inducted into the Army on June 10 and has been assigned to a field artillery unit at Camp McCoy, Wis.

Lieut. Allen Gross Home From Africa

Pursuit Plane Pilot Has Record Of Seventy Successful Sorties

ELLWOOD CITY, June 25.—An Ellwood City hero of the North African victory arrived home last night for a two-day visit with his parents before reporting to Washington, D. C., for further assignments.

He is Lt. Allen Gross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gross, Sr., of Knox.

Lt. Gross arrived with the army air force in the original invasion of North Africa, and has been there since. A pursuit plane pilot, Lt. Gross took part in 70 successful sorties against the Germans and Italians.

For the success of his missions he has been awarded the air medal, the fifth and sixth bronze oak leaf, and the seventh silver cluster.

Again July, Lt. Gross will have been in the air force for two years, having enlisted as a cadet while a student at Geneva college.

Joyce Gillespie Honored At Party

ELLWOOD CITY, June 25 — Miss Joyce Gillespie, bride-elect of the near future, was delightfully honored at a shower last evening given by Miss Margaret Jane Faurie at her home in Second street.

Miss Gillespie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gillespie, of Shadyrest, will become the bride of Cpl. Lafe "Bud" Faurie, son of Mrs. Charles Ott, of Second street. Cpl. Faurie, stationed in Arizona, will be graduated from an aerial gunnery school next week.

Cards held the attention of the guests with the attractive prizes going to Mrs. Jack Snare and Carolyn Davis. The hostess was aided by Kay Timmerman in serving an appealing lunch. Favors were pink rose corsages for the guest and and an American beauty rose corsage for the honor guest.

During the evening, an airplane arrived at the party loaded with lovely gifts for the bride-elect.

BIBLE MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, June 25.—Dr. Carl Armerding, outstanding Bible conference speaker, will speak at the Bell Memorial Presbyterian church on Saturday of this week at 2:30 p. m. and 7:45 p. m.

He will also speak at the Sunday morning service at 11 o'clock.

Forbush Funeral Largely Attended

ELLWOOD CITY, June 25.—Funeral services for Chauncey Forbush., who passed away on Monday evening at his home in Marionville, were held on Thursday afternoon at 1:30 from the home of his son, Arthur Forbush, at North Sewickley.

Rev. Charles Bell conducted the services, being assisted by Rev. Robert Bell, pastor of the North Sewickley Presbyterian church. During the services, Mrs. Walter Blinn and Mrs. Oliver Aiken sang two appropriate selections, "Face To Face" and "In the Garden".

The services were very largely attended with relatives coming from Wilkinsburg, Beaver Falls, Mercer, York and Sharon, Pa., and La-Grange, O.

Interment was made in Alliance, O., with brief graveside services being held for relatives and friends who were unable to attend the services here. Pallbearers were Gordon Forbush, Edward Cable, George Noel, Edward Crawford, grandsons, and James Ayers and Edward Bowers.

Adjourned Meeting Is Held By Council

ELLWOOD CITY, June 25—At an adjourned meeting of the Ellwood Boro Council last night, no further action was taken on awarding the bids for additions and repairs to the sewage disposal plant.

The bids were $20,000 higher than the estimate submitted by the Chester Engineering company, which will supervise the project. Since part of the money will come from a federal grant, it was decided to ascertain whether or not the government would help defray a part of the cost above the estimate.

A motion was passed that an ordinance be prepared calling for the acceptance of streets only by ordinance during the time that they are being laid.

Irvin Herge, of Pershing street, attended the meeting and protested to Council that the paving of Pershing street had caused excess rain water to run through and destroy his property. The matter was referred to the street committee.

The next regular meeting will be held on Thursday, July 8.

Registration For Tuition Pupils

ELLWOOD CITY, June 25—Tuition pupils of the surrounding townships and boros, who will enter the Ellwood high school as ninth grade students next September are to register next Monday or Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at the high school office.

The registration is for eighth grade pupils who have passed the high school entrance examination, Superintendent J. Ellis Bell announces.

Detailed Report Of Assembly Given By Commissioners

Dr. Grant E. Fisher And William Armstrong Report At Shenango Presbytery Meeting

When Shenango Presbytery met this week in Moravia Presbyterian church, commissioners to General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, Dr. Grant E. Fisher of New Castle and William Armstrong of Volant, gave a report of the sessions which they attended in Detroit in May.

In their report, Dr. Fisher and Mr. Armstrong made references to the reduced assembly and the business taken care of at the meeting. Notice was called to the two most important reports brought to the attention of the assembly, one regarding pensions and the other regarding the special committee on theological education. The latter reports adoption by the assembly will affect the whole matter of the education of Presbyterian ministers for the future. Presbyterian Seminaries will have harder courses of study from now on. Five of the 11 theological schools were continued, Princeton, Western, Louisville, McCormick and San Francisco. Puerto Rico school will be strengthened, Lincoln merged with Johnson C. Smith, and changes made at Dukuke and Bloomfield. Omaha Seminary will be discontinued.

The next most important report was that dealing with pensions. Dr. Skinner, president of the board of pensions, dealt with this vital matter. He refuted unjust criticisms of the board, such as that the board is insolvent. The main difficulties confronting the board are three: 1. The difficulty of securing guilt-edged investments carrying a high rate of interest; 2. The difficulty due to the failure of the Laymen's committee to raise the full $15,000,000 for the sustentation fund when the pension system was put in force; 3. Failure of both annuitants and churches to keep up regularly their dues payments. The assembly gave the board the privilege of choosing a skilled layman as vice-president of the board whose duties it will be to handle financial matters, also, ordered the board to plan a campaign for increasing the funds of the board when it was deemed most advisable to start such a campaign. A special committee is to be chosen by the general council to study the whole matter of pensions and report to the next assembly. Annuitants will suffer a cut in their monthly checks beginning with January, 1944.

The commissioners gave description of the great Tercentennary conference, the Foreign Missions popular meeting when 5,000 people crowded the Masonic auditorium to hear Dr. Wu Ti-fang, woman president of Ginling college, China, and Wendell Wilkie, speak.

Temperance lessons will be retained in the publications of the Westminster press dealing with International Sunday school lessons. A toally new organization was authorized by the assembly; namely, a National Council of Presbyterian Women. The movement for union with the Southern Presbyterian church was given a setback when the assembly of the Southern Church referred the report of Union back to a committee for further study. The conference committees of both churches had agreed upon a plan of union.

There are, at present, 385 Presbyterian chaplains in the army and navy and more than 200 more are needed. Each Presbytery was directed by the assembly to study its ministerial personnel with a view of recommending more men for chaplains.

Dr. William Barrow Pugh, stated clerk of general assembly, has been chosen to fill the place of Bishop Leonard, who was killed in an accident, as chairman of the General Commission of Army and Navy Chaplains, an authorized body of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, and sanctioned by the United States government.

The section of the Inter-American Highway from Laredo, Texas, to Mexico City was completed in 1936.
